

BOWIE IS BOOMED FOR RACE

Kiwanis Convention; Legion Drops 'Cue'; Durfee-Mar Deficit Big

(Special To The Herald)
Raleigh, Nov. 13.—The name of Thomas C. "Tam" Bowie of West Jefferson, former legislator and for a short time Superior Court judge, prominent in legal and political circles in the northwestern part of the State, has been injected into the 1932 primary race for Attorney General of North Carolina.

Mr. Bowie, it is understood here, is being promoted by eastern North Carolina Democrats, who hold out to him the possibilities of moving up from Attorney General to the Governorship, as did the late Thomas Walter Bickett and as Attorney General Dennis G. Brummit is, prospectively seeking to do in 1932. Mr. Bowie is understood to be considering the matter, but has given no intimation, as far as can be learned, of his possible decision.

The Ashe County lawyer was in Supreme court here last week, seeking to show that the Workmen's Compensation Act is unconstitutional. He was interested in a case involving the injury of a workman engaged in work on a school building serving a district parts of which are in Ashe and Watauga Counties.

If Mr. Bowie should enter the Attorney General race, the prospective number of candidates would be four, including Charles Ross, Lillington, former assistant attorney general and attorney now for the State Highway Commission; I. M. Bailey, Jacksonville and Raleigh, attorney for the N. C. Corporation Commission, and Kenneth Royall of Goldsboro, former Wayne County senator and recently president of the N. C. Bar Association. Neither has announced his candidacy, but Mr. Ross and Mr. Bailey are said to be on the verge of it. Mr. Royall sayeth not.

Judge Walter Siler, Chatham County, assistant Attorney General, has about eliminated himself as the possible candidate, as has Assistant Frank Nash, of Hillsboro.

A North Carolina lawyer recently wrote to a State office here asking for copies of several laws enacted by the General Assembly, asking among others for the "Austrian Ballad Law." He was sent a copy of the Australian Ballot Law of course. Yes, he was white.

The highway fund for counties for the one cent additional tax placed on gasoline by the 1929 General Assembly amounted to slightly more than $2,500,000 last year and is estimated at the same figure this year, plus the $500,000 special fund to counties, but doubt is beginning to arise as to whether the fund will reach that figure, due to the decrease in the use of gasoline and increased refunds made on non-highway gasoline-using machinery.

The decrease for the first three months of the present fiscal year is $151,741.46, as compared with the same months last year, or from $3,381,936.36 to $3,230,194.90, the drop amounting to more than $50,000 a month. Allocation of the $3,000,000 is made to the counties on the same basis of area and population for this year as last, unless the drop in gasoline tax revenues carries the total below

$3,000,000. Last year the amount was above that figure, due to collection for a month or more from the preceding fiscal year. However, all of the counties had a small credit balance carried over from last year.

Halifax County's allotment was 46,410, but the county received $50,862.88 of which $49,685.16 was used for debt service—bonds and interest, and $1,177.72 was brought over into this year as a credit balance which has since been used.

North Carolina received $203,433.60 in receipts from hunting licenses for the past fiscal year from 1,275 non-resident hunters, 27,908 who secured State wide licenses and 96,326 who got licenses for one county only, in addition to $5,423 from fur dealers' licenses. Forsyth County led with $7,849.50 in total game receipts and Guilford was second with $7,754.25.

Halifax County game receipts totaled $3,749, received from 454 State-wide licenses issued, 1,909 county licenses and 21 non-resident licenses and $185.00 from fur dealers' licenses, the annual report of Charles R. England, State game warden, shows.

More than 1,000 Kiwanians and la-adies of the Carolinas District were present at Raleigh November 6-8 for the tenth annual meeting, featured by the presence of International President Raymond M. Crossman, and Mrs. Crossman, Roe Fulkerson, the "Will Rogers of Kiwanis" and Mrs. Fulkerson, and Franklin S. Kean, Field Service Department of Kiwanis International.

Preliminaries, including golf, featured Thursday afternoon, the 6th, followed by a get-together frolic, led by Roe Fulkerson, and a dance at night. Business sessions were held Friday and Saturday mornings and Friday afternoon, with presidents, secretaries' and trustees' conferences at noon Friday. The banquet Friday evening was at Meredith college, followed by the big ball at the Sir Walter Hotel at 10 P. M.

Entertainment features, largely for ladies, for Thursday afternoon were golf matches, theatre parties, frolic and dance at night; for Friday: automobile tour of the city and airplane rides, luncheon at Woman's Club, theatre parties, tea at Woman's Club and banquet, Meredith College, and Saturday, airplane rides free for all attending convention. And the Saturday afternoon football game between Duke and Kentucky at Durham.

Governor Gardner has addressed a letter to presidents of local bars, clerks of Superior Court and Chairmen of Boards of County Commissioners, asking them to confer and advise him by November 20 as to needs of special terms of court in their counties for the spring term of 1931, naming the date, length of term desired and whether civil or criminal, in order that the calendar may be made out for special judges.

All five of the special judges in the State have joined with practically all of the regular judges in asking the voters to support the two proposed constitutional amendments, one increasing the Supreme Court justices from five to seven, the other providing that solicitor and judicial districts need not be co-terminus, to be voted on November 4. The purpose of the second is to provide about four additional regular judges and eliminate the provision for six special judges.

Halifax County had a total of 309 marriages in 1929, as compared with 353 marriages in 1928, and 12 divorces in 1929, as compared with 15 divorces in 1928, the U. S. Department of Commerce announces.

TWIN CITY HAPPENINGS

NOVEMBER
November flaunts unrivaled beauty
Frost kissed hills and silver wold,
Sun and rain, and wind together,
Leaves of crimson, brown and gold.

Purple haze at early morning,
At eventide a fragrant breeze,
Acorn cups like clustered jewels
Adorning gold and crimson trees.

Mrs. T. W. Mullen was hostess with bridge on Saturday, Oct. 8th honoring Miss Winifred Caldwell of Newfoundland, house guest of Mrs. R. P. Beckwith. In the living room where four tables for players were arranged a background of autumn leaves was used. The guest of honor was given tea napkins as a prize and the high score prize was won by Mrs. Clarence Grimmer who was given a box of bath powder. A salad and sweet course was served at the conclusion of the game. Those enjoying this delightful affair were Mesdames Clarence Grimmer, Cooper Grizzard, Alfred Martin, Bahnonn Weathers, Pendleton Grizzard, Octavius Griffin, Howard Pruden, George Hayes, W. C. Williams, Misses Winifred Caldwell, Susan Holliday, Ada Edwards, Phala Vick and Lucille Smith.

The 9 II Class held a Halloween party Friday, Oct. 7 in the Home Economics Department of the Junior High School. Miss Martha Carson was honorary hostess, with Mr. Graham Poyne and Aline Cannon as the guests of honor. The guests played games and were served hot cocoa with marshmallows, sandwiches, suckers and fruit. Those present were, Virginia Connor, Montie Hardison, Grace Hudson, Miriam Hudson, Sallie Bet King, Annie and Lula McDonald, Sarah Medlin, Virginia Lyerly, Willie Rivers Moors, Agnes Wood, Ruby Brown, Arlene Harrison. The boys were John Carter, Marvin Chambliss, James Cannon, William Gaylord, Roy Kenemur, Clifton Smith, Malcolm Daughtery, Winfrey Pierce, Charles Fitts and Hazle Gibson.

Raleigh Legionnaires will forego their annual Armistice Day barbecue this year and will ask the City of Raleigh and Wake County, which have set aside $300 each for the feed, to devote that amount to the relief of distress that is expected during the winter, due to unemployment and general depression.

The Armistice Day celebration will be held as usual, with Con C. Johnson, Mooresville, State Department Commander, as principal speaker, and with the usual parade, but the eats will be missing. Raleigh Post No. 1 decided at a meeting last week it would be better to feed several hundred hungry people during the winter than for Legionnaires who are not hungry to stuff barbecue.

Durfey & Marr, defunct brokerage firm here, had assets of $118,953.16 and liabilities of $447,667.59, a deficit of $328,714.73, the auditors' report filed with the clerk of Wake Superior Court, shows. This is in addition to the report of a shortage of not less than $236,000 in the Tucker Estate, of which Carey K. Durfey, one of the partners, was executor and trustee. The firm has been placed in the hands of receivers and the Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., succeeded Mr. Durfey as executor of the Tucker Estate. The partners, Mr. Durfey and S. Wade Marr, are both under eight criminal indictments of embezzlement from customers of the firm.

Notice of Summons

NORTH CAROLINA, HALIFAX COUNTY.
LILLIE BELLE GOODE vs. JAMES GOODE.

The defendant, James Goode, will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the Superior Court of Halifax County, North Carolina, for an absolute divorce on the grounds of more than five successive years separation between husband and wife, they having lived apart for such period, and the Plaintiff having been a resident of the State of North Carolina for such time; and the said defendant will further take notice that he is required to appear at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of said County in the court house in Halifax, North Carolina, within thirty days after service hereof, and answer or demur to the complaint in said action, or the Plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the Complaint.
