TRANSFORMING left-over foods

TRANSFORMING left-over foods into delicious family treats is a cullnary accomplishment of con-siderable merit, but this desirable knack of utilizing the remnants of previous meals may be acquired easily by any housewife. The secret, as good hotel chefs how is attraining torth combine

The secret, as good hotel chefs know, is attaining tasty combina-tions of the left-over foods with con-diments and other appetizer ingre-dients, which supply the needed zestfulness and make the dish taste new and lively instead of second-hand and flat. Left-over roast beef makes a delicious meat loaf, prepared as follows:

DUTTER DISCUITS ARE MORE POPULAR THAN EVER NOW ! Twin City people know a good thing . . . when they taste in And "BUTTER BISCUITS" a-r-e good! They had to be good to get where they are. We sold more Butter Biscuits than ever last Saturday. But we do not like to describe a product by telling you how many we sell.

After all though, all we could tell you about this new bread product would not tell you nearly so much as the first bite would.

Order a dozen from your grocer today, and you. will. see why BUTTER BISCUITS outsell all others

We thought that Twin City houswives would welcome a new dessert that was delicious, wholesome and nutritious, and that was no bother at all to fix, so we had our bakers experiment.

so we had our bakers experiment. They developed a new "triangle" cake that it was possible to make in three different flavors. We tried them all here in the bakery. We liked them. We v positive that our customers too would like them.

The next step was to investigate the cost of these cakes, and find out what it would be possible to sell them for. And here is where we hit a stump. Not quite enough for a dime—but too much for a nickel, UNLESS we could sell a volume of them.

We were really puzzled as just what to do. The cakes were good. We knew they would sell, even for 10c, but this was a little bit high for them. Finally we decided to put them on the market for 5c each.

The results were particularly gratifying. And today we are selling enough of these cakes that we can profitably make them for a nickel—and put all of the goodness in them that is found in much higher priced cakes.
