FARM TEACHERS MEET WITH TAR HEEL FARMERS

(By E. K. Veach)

The Halifax-Northampton agricul-ture teachers held their March group meeting at Aurelian Springs with two Young Tar Heel farmer members present from each chapter. These boys were there to discuss problems along their line of work that come up from time to time.

The first thing on the program was a talk by E. K. Veach on 'How to Create and Hold Interest in Y. T. H. F. Work.'

Joseph Liles compared the work of the Aurelian Springs chapter with a score card set up by the Agriculture schools of Eastern North Carolina. His talk was centered around chapter activities and agriculture classroom work.

John Heptinstall, another member of the Aurelian Springs chapter, discussed the various phases of shop and other outside work.

A. L. Vaun, gariculture teacher of Rich Square gave a good discus-sion of "How To Get Boys to Partic-ipate and Handle Chapter Activi-ties."

The first representative from the Y. T. H. F. chapter of Rich Square, was Alton Wade. He mentioned some of the things the Rich Square chapter has been doing with a modified score card of the one used by the agriculture department of District No. 2. They have local prizes for the individual boys doing the best work according to a score card made out by the local department.

Joseph Draper, also of Rich Square, named and discussed briefly the ob-jectives set up by their chapter for the year. These were similar to those adopted for the entire district.

Conway was represented by C. E. Morrison, the agriculture teacher and two boys. Collis Davis of this chapter told of some of the things they have accomplished this year in Y. T. H. F. work. Roger Burgess was present but did not make a talk.

H. M. Cherry of Woodland, was absent from the meeting.

The April meeting will be held at Rich Square on the 23. The follow-ing will be the subjects for the discus-sion: (1) Methods used to follow up all-day class work, by H. M. Cher-ry, and (2) Methods used to follow evening class work, by C. E. Morris-on.
