RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT
Mrs. Lois Henly Coltrane
Whereas, God in His wisdom, has seen fit to remove to her heavenly home our former beloved friend and co-worker, Lois Henly Coltrane, we the members of the Presbyterian Auxiliary, of the Roanoke Rapids Presbyterian Church, wish to extend to her family our most heartfelt sympathy.
Resolved: That we bow in humble submission to God's will.
Resolved: We count it a privilege to have worked with her, and trust that the memory of her beautiful Christian character will inspire us to higher endeavors in the Master's work and that the influence of her presence will linger with us.
May the consoling presence of our Heavenly Father abide with her loved ones.
Mrs. T. R. Manning,
Mrs. Hugh Bradley,
Mrs. J. Pendleton Grizzard.

Chic Spring Outfit

Blue and white creates a chic spring outfit. The suit of loda cloth is of bright blue, trimmed with white galyak. The tricorne hat combines blue and white straw, and the oxfords are done in blue kid and white water snake.

The "Dunkers"

have the right idea
Do you know what a "dunker is?"
Well, a dunker is one who dips (or rather, "dunks") his toast, doughnut, cake or other foreign matter in his coffee to enhance the flavor.
Dunking is one of our oldest American customs, and although it came near causing a certain governor of one of the largest Southern states to become socially ostracized recently, it is still considered to be very good form—and we have heard, is indulged in by certain prominent members of the F. F. V. We always like to see a patron "dunking" his cake at our restaurant—if that is the way he enjoys it most, for we want you to feel at home at the Central. . . .most people do!
