IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our husband, and father, W. H. Allsbrook, who died April 28, 1928.

Some day we say and turn our eyes To the fair hills of paradise
Some day, some time, a sweet new rest
Shall blossom flower-like in each breast.

Some day, some time, our eyes shall see
The faces kept in memory,
Some day our hand shall clasp their hand
Just over in the morning land.
