PROHI COPS IN SWEEPING RAIDS Up and down the Avenue the high weeds ane meeting their Waterloo. Mayor Jenkins sentenced two colored boys to the city jail for a short pe riod. It costs the city about one dollar per day to feed and guard them have been put to work cutting weeds and are paying their way.

While it may look like the shotgun guard has little responsibility ooking after only two prisoners, perhaps he has visions of getting more pupils in his class.

Out on the Weldon road we saw a big gang of county or State prison-ers at work on the shoulders of the highway. There is no sound argumen against the proper and humane work ing of prisoners. They should be made to pay a portion of the cost their upkeep brings to the government We do not believe in the brutality of the Georgia chain gangs, Such a procedure is a disgrace to a State. If only half what "I Am A Fugitive From the Georgia Chain Gangs' tells is true, the State of Georgia stands indicted of heinous crimes. We are not for mollycoddling a single prisoner. But they are, after all, human beings and should be punished accordingly.

The most discouraging blues we know of: Taking a walk past a closeddown, silent cotton mill.

One of the results of the trip to Raleigh before the State Highway Commission recently was the death of State Route 481 from the railroad sta-tion to Pleasant Hill. The road has been designated 40 A, an alternate route with 40, will be shown on the new State maps as such. Some say they can see a slight improvement in thru traffic since the new signs were put up the first of the week. Now for those Federal markers.

Many of the business men in the South Ward say they would rather spend this year's city funds on repair ing streets than on extending the White Way. Commissioner Martin at a Merchants meeting this week, asked for their opinion on this and other matters which must be settled by the Board in the near future.

A budget expert from Raleigh is helping with the city budget which must be approved by the State. There will be between thirty and thirty-five thousand dollars at a 90 cent rate to operate on for the coming year. Police, clerks, streets, cleaning, lights, fire, department, and other expenditures to be made. Take a pencil and figure out a budget of your own.

As a great contrast to their Greensboro treatment, our Legion State Champs report in glowing words their hospitable treatment in Gastonia. Being the smallest of the four teams, as well as the Tar Heel representa tives, they were given royal service and remained favorites with the Gastoinans even after defeat.

SUGGESTS BAG BALES IN COTTON

Grissom's Suggestion t o Use Cotton For Bagging Material Is Good

WIRES PRESIDENT The Herald received a copy of the telegram sent by U. S. Internal Revenue Collector Grissom to President Hoover, giving Mr. Grissom's suggestion as to a partial solution of the cotton situation. The telegram was sent last Friday. From recent news dispatches this week, it would appear that the suggestion met with much favor as a movement is afoot now to use cotton for bagging material for baled coton as outlined by Mr. Grissom. While late tobacco prices are much improved, according to quotation on the Southern markets, cotton con-tinues to waver just a little above the low mark hit last week when the crop estimate was published.

Many mills are reported closed down temporarily until the price is stronger and buying, which has practically halted, is resumed. The local mills closed the first of this week Roanoke and Patterson Mills for ten days; Rosemary Manufacturing Co., for the regular two weeks holiday. Every kind of suggestion imaginable to better the cotton situation has been sent to Washington, from plow ing under every third row to plowing under every third member of the Farm Board. There are those who want a moria torium declared on all cotton growing next year, while others want to have the present maturing crop in t h e

TRIALS IN DURHAM

Thirteen Federal prohibition offiers, including two deputy marshals, swung quietly into the environs of Roanoke Rapids the first of this week and arrested_ sixteen m.e.n charged with violation of the dry laws.

Filling stations felt the sting of the 18th Amendment enforcers with at least four stations near here fea-turing in this, the largest wholesale Federal raid since February, 1928.

Federal dicks, posing as thirsty citizens, worked as undercover men in this vicinity for two weeks or more before the Tuesday charge. They claim to have bought liquor from all those placed under arrest, from some of them several times. In some cases the officers swapped about in their purchasing so they have several witneses in the same case.

Traveling in pairs, the undercover men would drive up to a filling station or to the rendevous of a seller and make a bid for liquor. If they were succesful, they would come back again later, or perhaps send another crew. If unsuccessful, they would be followed by a second pair, who probably looked less suspicious. The work was well planned and carried out, as nobody in this community including the U. S. Commissioner, knew anything about the proposed raids until the warrants were sworn out on Monday by the officers.

Most prominent among those arrested was Fred Forrest, local conractor, and owner of a filling station in South Rosemary. In the warrant, officers charge they bought two and one half gallons of whiskey from this filling station on July 11th. In-cluded in the warrant was one Frank Merritt, resident here for many years, employed and living at the station.

However, when the dry raiders piled out of their cars this Tuesday afternoon, their busy day, they drew a blank. There was not one drop of contrabrand to be found on the prem-

u. S. Commissioner W. O. Thompson placed the bonds of the two men at $350 each, promptly filled by Mr. Forrest. Asked about the seriousness of the charge which the men will face in Federal Court at Durham, the commissioner pointed out that so far as he knew, this was, if proved, first offense for both men. It is well known that first offenders are not dealt with so stringently as repeaters. At Dick's Filling Station a half block away, three men were arrested

The Merchants Association met or Tuesday morning with the idea of taking some action on the plan close all stores at 6 p. m. during the next week. There was some opposed to the idea and it was dropped. President A. N. Martin asked for discussion of matters before the City Board and the rest of the meeting was spent discussing the lighting and street situation. Those present favored passing up the White Way extension until next year. They prefer the major portion of the budget be used for
