Miss Nan Liles spent Sunday with Miss Mabel Butts.

Mrs. White of Roanoke Rapids is teaching in Miss Elizabeth Savage's place this week.

DECLAMATION CLUB

The club met last week as usual. They were entertained by the following program:

Bible verses led by Ruby Lee Tharrington. Lord's Prayer. Reading by James White. Poem, Edgar Thorne. Contest between three pupils. Story Telling, Mildred Stallings. Poem by Mary Virginia Hawkins.

Schedule Changed for Special Xmas Programs

The regular schedule of Aurelian Springs will be slightly changed this week so that the different grades will have a chance to give their Christmas programs. Wednesday at the regular Chapel period the first grade under Miss Patterson will give the following program:

Song, school. Bible story and prayer, Janice Bellamy and Paul Andleton. Pantomimes, "Baby Jesus," grade. Christmas Carols, grade. "Merry Christmas," Ann Brewer, Gladys Hawkins, Mason Wilcox. Solo James Andleton. Poem, "That Little Baby," Urtie B. Anderson.

On Thursday at the same period the Dramatic Club will entertain the High School with the following program:

Song, "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing," School. Story, "Birth of Jesus," Louise Brown. Poem, "Christmas Long Ago," Gladys Crawley. Quartet "O Little Town of Bethlehem," Ruby Saunders, Virginia Mooney, Elsie Mohorn, Clydeen Hamill. Pantomime, "The First Noel Christmas in Foreign Countries," France, Daisy Porter, Italy, Russia, Agnes Chichester, Germany, Mertice Liles, Norway, Lule Ellen Morecock, England, Alma Grey Dickens. Story, Thomas Street. Song, "Come, All Ye Faithful," school.

Friday at the last period the grades and the High School Glee Clubs are giving the following program:

Song, school. Story song, first grade. Pageant, "Holy Night," 3rd thru 7th grades. Quartet, "Angels From the Realms of Glory," High School Boys' Quartet. Poem and Song, second grade. Chorus, High School Glee Club.

After the program the pupils will go back to their respective rooms and will spend the remainder of the time as their teachers and grade mothers see fit.

Young Tar Heel Farmer's Minstrel

On the night of Dec. 11, the Young Tar Heel Farmers of Aurelian Springs gave their annual Negro minstrel. First the circle composed of Negroes giving snappy jokes, comebacks, riddles, songs, dialogues and monologues, was given. As a closing number the blackface womanless wedding was staged. The minstrel as a whole seemed to have been enjoyed by the large audience attending. The Tar Heels are planning to use the proceeds from the minstrel to buy a radio and other classroom necessities.

Musical Numbers on Chapel Program

On Wednesday evening, December 9, the Aurelian Springs school as-

Looks Like a Motorist's Nightmare

A quarter of a million highway traffic signs have been erected by D. C. ("Dusty") Rhodes during the twenty years he has had charge of the sign posting work of the Automobile Club of Southern California. There are now 64 varieties of signs in the state. More than half are caution signs, including warnings of hospital zones, railroad crossings, fire stations, city limits, slow bridges, winding roads, slippery surface roads, pedestrian crossings, one way street flashers, etc.

sembled for regular chapel exercises. A musical program was presented, which was as follows:

Song, "Christmas Carol" played by Agnes Tharrington. Devotional, Alma Gray Dickens. Prayer, David Lee Wilson. Piano solo, Sue Bowers. Poem, Alta Jean Hamill. Piano solo, Dorothea Matthews. Reading, (including a vocal and piano solo—"Home, Sweet Home") Jessie Belle Lewis. Piano solo, Frances Dickens. Piano solo, Claudine Lewis. Reading, Merle Thompson. Piano solo, Jessie Belle Lewis.

Mr. Matthews then read two letters offering scholarships to meritorious pupils. One of these offers is open to graduates, the other to ninth graders only.

Finally, each grade made an attendance report. It was found that the eleventh grade had the highest average for the week, with the tenth a close second.

HEATHSV'LE

Miss Ethel Mooney spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis.

Miss Katie Mae Hamill spent the week-end with Miss Belle Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Powell and daughter, Edna Louise, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Parker Sunday afternoon.

Miss Laura Mae Joyner spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Clydeen Hamill.

Claude Branch spent the week-end with his parents near Garysburg.

BEAR SWAMP

Last Wednesday night, Mrs. D. L. Wilson entertained the teachers and a number of others at a candy pulling. The guests found their partners by puzzles. As soon as each one found his partner a contest was held. Miss Burwell Patterson received the prize. For quite a while the people were pulling candy. After all of it had been pulled and put away, the guests went into the dining room where candy, salt peanuts, popcorn and apples were found, then back into the living room where more games were played.

Last Sunday night "John, The Beloved Apostle," was discussed in B. Y. P. U. This was an interesting program. In general assembly Henry Cooke made a short talk on "The Baptist Fundamentals." This was a very interesting talk and everyone enjoyed it.

BRINKLEYVILLE

Miss Burwell Patterson spent the week-end with Miss Ethel Harrison.

Ernest Brown of near Rosemary, spent the week-end with Joe Speight Brown of Brinkleyville.

Mr. Ashley Smith of Hawkins Chapel visited in the home of Mr. Joe Speight and Marie Brown Sunday night.

Mrs. G. T. Mohorn went shopping in Enfield Saturday.
