

Next Week At Local Theatres

Joan Crawford and William Gargan in a scene from "Rain"

CRAWFORD IN RAIN

Joan Crawford in "Rain," comes to the Peoples Theatre Monday and Tuesday. The story, as you probably know, concerns itself with a girl of nondescript reputation who with several other passengers on a South Sea schooner, is marooned on the small island of Pago Pago, when cholera breaks out among the crew. As the title implies, rain provides the real background of the story. Rain, relentless rain—falling for days on end until the marooned company is driven near to insanity.

Wednesday and Thursday brings "He Learned About Women," the new comedy featuring Stuart Erwin, Alison Skipworth and Susan Fleming. The film tells a farcical story of a bookish young man who is frankly bewildered when he falls heir to fifty million dollars. On the strength of his inheritance he starts out to find out about life and on his first days adventuring picks up two excellent teachers—an ex-actress and a young stenographer. "Rackety Rax," which comes to the Peoples screen Friday only, brings reports of being the funniest of all the football comedies. Victor McLaglen has the role of a sports racketeer who leads his stable of boxers and wrestlers into college football. Greta Nissen appears in the leading feminine role. The film is said to be replete with music of the dancing variety. Saturday brings Bob Steele in "Young Blood."

Miss "Blondy" Lewis has returned from a visit to relatives and friends in Warrenton and Norlina.

Miss Traynam Wyche and Dave Clark attended the Va.-Carolina game at Charlottesville, Va., Thanksgiving.

M. R. Steinberg spent several days here last week.

Misses Betty Gray Long and Maria Long spent the week-end here with their parents Dr. and Mrs. T. W. M. Long.

MOVIE GOSSIP

Frederic March and his wife Florence Eldridge just adopted a baby girl.

Richard Bennett, one of the screen's best character actors, is recuperating from a serious attack of pneumonia.

Geo. Raft and Constance Cummings are "that way."

Helen Twelvetrees is a proud mother.

Rumor has it that Pauline Goddard is secretly Mrs. Charlie Chaplin.

Carol Lombard replaces Miriam Hopkins opposite Clark Gable in "No Man of Her Own."

It takes Boris Karloff three hours to put on his makeup for "The Mummy."

The John Gilberts are honeymooning in Europe.

The "The Sin of Madelon Claudet" won for Helen Hayes the Academy Award, it looks as though her next, "Farewell to Arms," is going to be even a greater role for her.
