

"HOW BILL" GETS BY

Bill live in my town—in yours too. If the Bills in this land were organized, they would make a formidable political party.

There are some fifteen doctors in my town. When Bill moved here he enquired around for the most popular doctor and retained him as his family physician—as long as the doctor would do his work without pay, which was over two years . . . The doctor became too insistent about his pay to suit Bill.

Then, our hero sought the formidable competitor of the leading doctor—and recited the two years of "robbery" that he had endured. The ambitious competitor swallowed the hook, line and sinker! He treated Bill's infirmities as long as he could afford to without remuneration; some competitors are that way.

Then Bill sought the doctor that lived farthest away from his neighborhood, who had never heard of the experience of his contemporaries with the new patron. He grabbed Bill with open arms. Out of this doctor, Bill got a couple of tonsillectomies, two obstetrical services and several bedside influenza case, before the doctor awakened to the real situation.

Every physician that ever touched Bill came away with a water haul! At last Bill moves to another town, full of invective for his last place of abode. It was a hick town, with the meanest people in it in the world!

Those of my readers who are acquainted with Bill, know that he can tell you just how the United States Senate ought to perform! It will take a long time to educate some folks to the point of getting above the tactics of Bill—the fellow that public opinion alone can remove from our midst.

SPRINGS ATHLETICS

The Aurelian Springs teams enjoyed participation in the tournament held February 3 and 4, sponsored by the Roanoke Rapids Kiwanis Club. We hope that this tournament will grow and be a great success.

The Springs girls held Woodland to a narrow marginal win. Porter featured for the girls on offense; Crawley on defense. Miss Parker from Woodland played a very fine game at center.

The Springs boys played a splendid game, defeating Woodland 30-28. Boys playing this game were Liles, Carter, Williams, Fowler, and Warren. In the finals these boys and Dudley Powell held the former State champions to a margin of only 13-27. This is the Springs 18th game, with nine wins and nine losses. Our next scheduled game is with Jackson, there.
