

Next Week At The Peoples

TWO JACK OAKIE FILMS NEXT WEEK

The Peoples Theatre presents two pictures featuring Jack Oakie, popular Paramount comedian next week. This versatile chap is first seen in "From Hell to Heaven," in which he appears with Carole Lombard and David Manners, and which is shown at the Peoples Wednesday only, and Thursday and Friday he again comes to the Peoples' screen in "Uptown New York." Oakie is shown above in two scenes from the pictures.

PEOPLES PROGRAM

In spite of the fact that two very excellent stage productions will be presented at the Peoples Theatre next week, the "high spot" on next week's program is the glad news that Roanoke Rapids audiences will have an opportunity to see Eddie Cantor in "The Kid from Spain" Monday and Tuesday.

This latest comedy of the little pop-eyed comedian had been hailed by critics far and wide as being his greatest entertainment, and "The Kid From Spain," starring the inimitable Eddie, has been looked forward to ever since announcement was made that Cantor had made the film, though Roanoke Rapids is one of the first Carolina towns to get the picture.

Following the feature presentation of the Cantor film at the Downtown house Monday and Tuesday, Wednesday's bill promises to be most interesting on both stage and screen. For on this day, "From Hell to Heaven," will be shown on the screen, in addition to a stage presentation of "Seabee" Hayworth, described as "The South's Premier Black-face Comedian" and his company of talented entertainers.

Her husband faced with imprisonment, Adrienne Ames is one of eleven who pit their luck against fate in "From Hell to Heaven," Paramount's drama of race-track follies and fortunes, offering in addition to Adrienne, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie and David Manners.

For the Thursday and Friday screen attraction, Jack Oakie once more returns to the screen, this time in "Uptown New York," which is said to be a fast-moving comedy of the Metropolitan center, featuring an all-star cast. This in addition to the "Mad Merry Maniacs," stage presentation.

Hoot Gibson completes the week on the screen at the Peoples with his "horse opera" Cowboy Counsellor, Saturday of next week, on which day Bob Robinson and his "Mad Merry Maniacs" Company finishes their 3-day engagement in the city.

Two Revues Booked For Next Week At Peoples Theatre

With vaudeville and stage presentations seemingly decidedly in favor with local theater-goers, the Peoples again offer two complete stage shows for next week.

The first company, will be seen from the Peoples stage for one day only. On Wednesday, "Seabee" Hayworth, hailed as the South's premier black-face comedian appears with his full company in a stage presentation show. Mr. Hayworth is said to have a company of capable stage artists and entertainers, in fact, his show has been so popular in Eastern cities in which he has recently appeared that it was possible to get only a one-day engagement of his show.

Thursday will be Bob Robinson's introduction to Roanoke Rapids, together with his company of 25, which is billed as the "Mad Merry Maniacs." If "Bob" needs an introduction to this city, there is many places where he doesn't, for according to press reports, he and his company of 25 artists have played a great number of the larger show towns in the East with a most creditable record.

Highlights of the "Mad Merry Maniacs" include: Chet Nelson and Gertrude Parish in a skit that never fails to "bring down the house" according to press reports. Chet gives a marvelous characterization of a "wicked old man," and finishes up with a beautiful number on the guitar.

Rex Gordon and Ulah Deane furnish satire on the marriage question, and end with a pretty song for the finale. Irving Lazar shares honors with his acrobatic dance numbers, while Mabel Harding (from Hollywood) is not only versatile as a dancer, singer and comedienne, but is extremely easy to look upon.

Other acts featured with the "Mad Merry Maniacs" are most too numerous to mention, but furnish an hour of good, clean, wholesome amusement that will be enjoyed by every member of the family. The show, featuring Bob Robinson in person fills a last-half engagement at the Peoples next week, beginning on Thursday and ending Friday, in addition to the regular picture program.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Roanoke Rapids First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Williams Tuesday afternoon. Prayer was lead by Mrs. W. C. Allsbrook. After a brief business discussion, refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served. Those present were: Mesdames M. C. Womble, G. E. Buckner, W. C. Allsbrook, Frank Williams, R. L. Martin, Ivey Mohorn, E. C. Eubanks, George Lampley, J. H. Hines, L. W. Clements, D. L. Traynham, and Dowd.
