FUMIGATION

Too seldom do people fumigate their apartments, in these wintry days, when habitations are closed so many hours of the day and night.

Air in living-rooms may become quickly polluted. A guest may happen in for an hour's chat. He may have a cough, not enough to proclaim him an invalid—yet he may be what we call a "flu carrier." He may inoculate receptive victims in any house he visits, and do it without in the least being conscious of the act.

One or two fumigations a week does no harm—it's well worth the effort.

Not so very long ago, sulphur candles were burned in rooms that had held contagious diseases. My opinion is, that such an agency is wholly ineffectual. I came against it once in a smallpox epidemic, and it proved utterly worthless.

A fumigant must be volatile—capable of being dispersed in the air of the room; it must be effectual against germs. Having these two properties, you have the ideal agent. I have tested out a solution of formaldehyde to my satisfaction. If handled carefully, it is safe in the hands of the family. Its pungent, irritating odor warns against excessive dose. I use a 40% solution known as "Formalin."

Sprinkled about the linen closets, particularly in the clothes-hamper containing soiled linen for the laundry; a little here and there about the bedding—enough to "bite" the nose and eyes a little. Keep children away from the keen odor. Its use can be quickly learned. It will leave air pure, and will destroy bacteria. I have "isolated" cases of small-pox and scarlet fever, by having the air constantly formalized about the patient. Try it for fumigation; use it carefully, and depend on its effect.

Founders Day Is Celebrated By Hi School P. T. A.

A meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of the Junior-Senior High School was held on last Thursday afternoon with about a hundred and twenty-five present. A Founder's Day program was observed. Mrs. A. L. Clark, president of the association explained the reason for Founder's Day and its value.

Miss Mary B. Cannon made a splendid talk on "How Parents Might Co-operate with Teachers." Miss Vernie Eddins read a poem "Tribute." After a short business session, Mr. C. W. Davis spoke and explained the Aycock bill now before the Legislature. A committee composed of Mrs. T. M. Jenkins, Mrs. J. N. Bynum and Mrs. Paul Reid, were appointed to write to the Legislature in regards to this bill and to stress the danger points.

Miss Aileen Cannon had more mothers represented and was given a potted plant.
