

A & P Tea Co. Opens Second Store In Town

New Grocery Will Serve North Ward

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company opened their second store in the city Thursday morning, in the store room at 237 Roanoke Avenue in the Kidd Building. R. G. Harriss, who has been with the company for several years at their Weldon store will be manager of the new store in Roanoke Rapids. J. C. Leath remains in charge of the Uptown store.

A complete line of groceries, fresh fruits and vegetables will be carried at the new store, and it will be conducted on the same standard lines that have made the name of A. and P. famous from coast to coast.

According to Mr. Wallace, field superintendent for the A. and P. Tea Company, this is one of the very few stores being opened in Eastern Carolina at this time.

The A. and P. Store in the South ward was established in 1925, and has enjoyed extensive patronage and continued success since its opening. Executives of the Nation-wide chain of stores have had their eyes open for another location in Roanoke Rapids for some time. The opening of their new store here is evidence of the faith of this company in the city's future, and a sure sign that business is getting better.

Hockaday Makes Big Milk Contribution For Undernourished

N. M. Hockaday, local dairyman, has contributed forty-eight quarts of milk per day for a period of a month or more to be used by the Welfare Department, under the direction of Mrs. Bohnson Weathers and Rev. J. N. Bynum, chairman of Associated Charities.

The distribution of this milk is under the direction of a man from the Federal Relief office and is supervised by Mrs. Weathers, Miss Lucille Carlon and Mrs. Brost. This generous contribution of Mr. Hockaday's comes at a most opportune time, when the schools were closing and the children getting milk there would have been unable to get more just now. There are many undernourished children that are being supplied and also a great many grown people who need proper nourishment to prevent T. B. and pellagra.

Undoubtedly such an unselfish act on the part of Mr. Hockaday should meet with the approval of every public spirited person in the community, and the various charitable organizations are grateful for the contribution.

If you can use a couple of guinea pigs, you can buy them when you go to New York for about twenty cents each. They used to bring as high as $1.34 each.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

WHEN you hear a person say, "I just eat to live," take it with a grain of salt. For after all is said and done everyone has favorite foods, and there's real satisfaction in an attractive, wholesome, well-cooked dinner.

Anyones with a jaded appetite is bound to get a thrill by going to market these days, for this is the season when nearby home-grown vegetables are very much in evidence.

Spring salads are popular whether served with olive oil and vinegar or prepared salad dressing, and there are fine displays of spinach, string beans, beets, and green onions in the vegetable bins.

Oranges, new cabbage, and lettuce are very plentiful and low in price. The Quaker Maid Kitchen has planned three particularly appetizing menus for this week, using meats which are in good supply, and therefore reasonable in price.
