

Next Week At Local Theatres

PEOPLES PROGRAM

"The Barbarian," with Ramon Novarro cast as an Egyptian guide whose interest in fair ladies making the grand tour increases in proportion to the size of their pocketbooks, will play Monday-Tuesday at the Peoples.

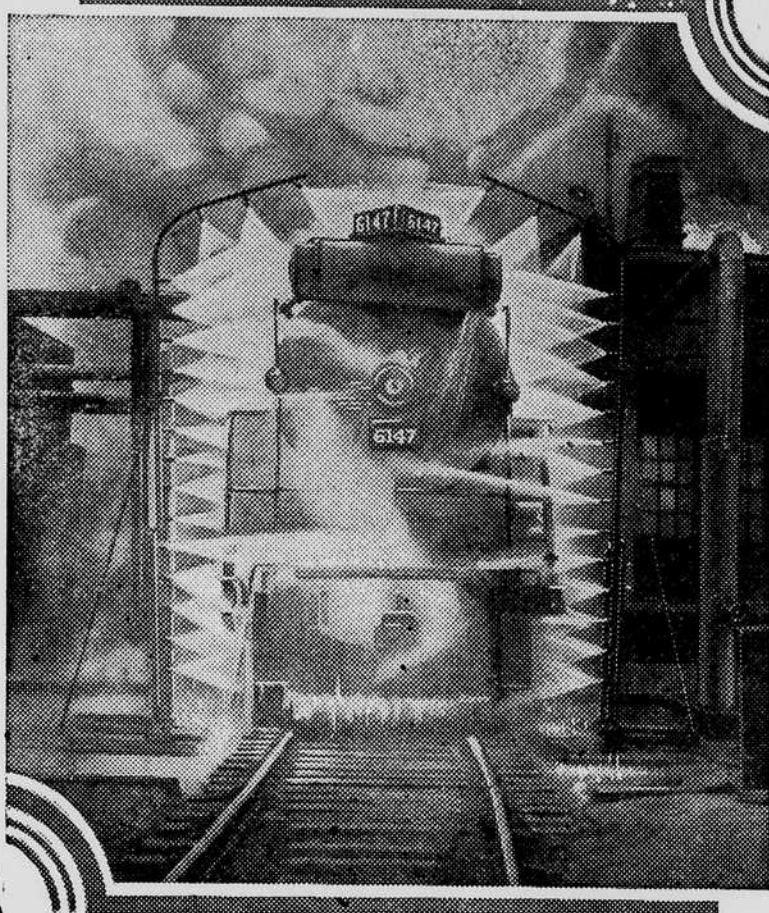

In a picture in which Young Novarro is again a Pagan, singing daring, romantic songs of love, he is ably supported by Myrna Loy and Reginald Denny. "The Barbarian" comes to the Peoples under their new, popular prices for Monday-Tuesday pictures of 10c-15c matinees and 10c and 20c nights.

Wednesday - Thursday, "The Big Cage," with the sensational dare-devil, Clyde Beatty and Anita Page, will be the feature attraction of the week at the Peoples. It is a circus drama, and is said to surpass all other action thrillers.

Friday, bargain day at the Peoples brings "A Night Of Terror". A maniac at large, mysterious killings, secret panels, and Bela Lugosi slithering down dark hallways are a few of the thrill providing elements that make this picture one that will be long remembered. Sally Blane, George Meeker, Tully Marshall, Matt McHugh and Wallace Ford are seen prominently in an excellent cast.

"Hell Below," playing both Roanoke Rapids theatres Saturday of next week is the sensational submarine adventure film, which caused widespread comment during its long run showing at the Astor Theatre in New York City. Its coming to Roanoke Rapids gives local theatre-goers a chance to view what is said to be the most thrilling marine spec-

Photograph, Canadian National Railway

THAT the compulsory shower bath method used at modern swimming pools has been adapted by the Canadian National Railways for cleaning passenger locomotives? The locomotive is moved to and fro through a gate composed of strong spurting jets of water as shown in the above photograph. Locomotives are given a thorough shower bath after every run. It has been found that in addition to adding to their appearance, this regular washing of locomotives also adds to their life tacle ever to reach the talkies.

Robert Montgomery heads the cast, in what critics concede to be the outstanding role of his career. Walter Huston, who recently contributed a memorable portrayal to the screen as President in "Gabriel Over the White House," has another stirring role as the submarine commander. Madge Evans has the feminine lead. "Hell Below" will be shown at the new 10c and 20c prices for both matinee and night.

IMPERIAL PROGRAM

Next week's feature attraction at the Imperial brings George Arliss in a role which is said to be of the type he has never before portrayed, and one that will offer a delightful surprise to his multitude of fans. The dignified Arliss even "goes barefooted" in the picture, "The Working Man," which will be shown Monday-Tuesday at the Imperial at their new, low admission price of 10c-25c.

The brilliant young star, Bette Davis, has the ingenue role, and had her hair dyed red especially for this picture. Juvenile leads are handled by Hardie Albright and Theodore Newton. Others making up the cast include Gordon Westcott and J. Farrell MacDonald.

"The Working Man," Hollywood critics advise, has punch, laughter, youth, romance and a strong timely story with George Arliss at his very best.

Following their new policy of "bringing back a big one" for bargain day, which is Wednesday-Only at the Imperial, the hilarious idiotically funny but entertaining Four Marx Brothers will be shown in "Horse Feathers" is the latest, tho was shown several months ago in the city. Admission for bargain day is only 10c-15c, matinee and night.

Thursday-Friday, Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe renew their feud in "Hot Pepper," and the picture is said to be just as hot as the title. This time, Lupe Valez provides the feminine interest. "Hot Pepper" will be shown Roanoke Rapids audiences for only 10c-20c.

The big surprise of next week's program at Roanoke Rapids theatres comes with their booking of "Hell Below" at both houses Saturday only. Robert Montgomery and Madge Evans are starred, and this film is undoubtedly one of the biggest of the season, coming from Hollywood's major producer, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Senator Reynolds Has Slight Case Of "Flu"

Word from Washington is to the effect that Senator Robert R. Reynolds has entirely recovered from the "slight case of flu and severe cold" from which he suffered last week.

The Senator was absent from the Senate last Thursday, the first time he had been away from his duties on Capitol Hill unless on official business.
