

TWO ARE KILLED; SEVERAL WOUNDED

Caledonia Escape Attempt

THREE BREAKS IN PERIOD OF WEEK AT PENAL INSTITUTION

White Prisoner Dies Wednesday Morning In City Hospital Of Gun-Shot Wounds Suffered In Tuesday's Attempted Escape

A wave of unrest has broken out at Caledonia State Prison Farm, located in Halifax County, within the last ten days that has caused three riots and "rush" escape attempts, resulting in the death of a 17-year-old Negro boy inmate of the institution last Friday, and the fatal shooting Tuesday of Louis Pendleton, white man, who died in Roanoke Rapids Hospital at 10:05 A. M. Wednesday from wounds received in the third "rush" escape attempt within a single week.

The dead are:

Louis Pendleton, white man, who was serving a 6 to 10 year sentence from Cumberland County for murder.

Clarence Stone, 17-year-old Forsyth Negro youth.

Lonnie Taylor, 40-year-old white man serving a 20 to 30 year term from Harnett County, was last seen Tuesday, June 6th when he jumped into the Roanoke River. It is supposed that Taylor drowned, tho his body has never been found.

Last Tuesday's escape was evidently carefully planned, but ended fatally for Louis Pendleton, while Stanley Hodges, serving a 14 to 25 year sentence for store-breaking and larceny in Gaston county is surviving from bullet wounds in the chest and abdomen in Roanoke Rapids Hospital. Louis Smith, serving a 7 to 10 year term on a similar charge from Columbus county, suffered gunshot wounds in the leg.

J. B. Owens of Transylvania, Tate Stanly of Onslow and Oliver Ferguson of Rockingham, all serving maximum 5-year sentences were the other three prisoners to figure in Tuesday's break.

It was about 9:30 in the morning when a squad of prisoners being worked by W. C. Whitley, foreman, made a break. One of the ring-leaders yelled "Man Gone Crazy!" This was evidently the signal, agreed upon and being communicated from prisoner to prisoner by the ever-mystifying "grapevine" route that has puzzled many a prison warden.

A number of prisoners grappled with Whitley, who was armed with a pistol. Whitley's guards were standing some distance away, and altho quick to interfere, it was not before several prisoners had jumped on the foreman with hoes they were using in cleaning up. Whitley received no wounds, but shot thru the sleeve of his shirt in attempting to shoot one of the prisoners during the scuffle.

Friday, June 9th, the second "rush" of last week occurred about 2:00 P. M. when a squad of 38 prisoners were cleaning up new ground and five colored men made an attempt to escape.

Clarence Stone was shot by either guard C. J. Gordon, or L.

ing up roots, clearing some land nearly a mile from a thicket. I was standing on a ditch bank at the end of the squad and Caulder (guard) was on the other end, when four men ran to my left. I called to them several times to stop. Caulder ran back around the end and both of us shot about the same time, twice each. Caulder then pursued the men and gained on them rapidly. One man ran about 275 yards, staggered and fell. Caulder then followed the other three, all of whom were caught. After each of us had emptied our guns, a fifth man ran to my right and before I could load my gun he had gotten out of my range. This man escaped. In a few minutes the truck came and the man who was shot was taken to the camp for medical aid."

Caulder's testimony was about the same, and each of the men stated they are employed by the State, armed with double-barrel shot guns and instructed to keep the prisoners and bring them back to camp. Their only means of keeping them is in running them down or shooting them and each stated they used the latter means as a last resort.

In the first break, Tuesday, June 6th, Lonnie Taylor, 40-year-old white man serving a 20 to 30 year term for second degree murder from Harnett County, broke away from the squad with which he was working and ran to the edge of Roanoke river and jumped in. That is the last time he has been seen or heard of, and altho an exhaustive search has been made up and down the banks of the river, the only clew to the fugitive the guards and searchers have been able to unearth was the man's shoes, abandoned near the point where he dived into the muddy waters of the treacherous Roanoke.

It is supposed that the Harnett county man drowned, tho there have been no substantial clues to support this fact.

Count Visitor Of World Exposition

ROYALTY VISITS WORLD FAIR; Count Folke Bernadotte (above), nephew and representative of the King of Sweden, shown as guest of honor at luncheon in Administration Building of the 1933 World Fair in Chicago.

B. Caulder, and in spite of the quick work of the guards, two colored men escaped and are still at large. Stone died two hours later from gunshot wounds.

In a graphic word picture of last Friday afternoon's escape attempt, before County Coroner W. C. Williams at the investigation, C. J. Gordon, guard, testified as follows:

"We were working about three miles from camp. Capt. W. G. Andrews, foreman, with 38 men. We were pick-

Many Applications For Secretaryship N. C. Railroad Co.

Governor Ehringhaus relates that one man, calling on him, said he did not want much from him, just the appointment as secretary of the N. C. Railroad Co. "It might interest you," the Governor replied, "to know that there have been more applications for that job than any other I have to appoint. D. F. Giles, Marion, now holds the job, from the Gardner administration. Judge Wiley G. Barnes, of the Raleigh city court, held it under Governor McLean. It's a part-time job, with fair remuneration and railroad passes.

NOTICE OF SALE

By virtue of the authority contained in a certain deed of trust executed on the 30th day of December, 1925, by John A. Shaw and Nannie C. Shaw, his wife, to John A. Cutchins and E. A. Matthews, Trustees, of record in the office of the Register of Deeds for Halifax County, North Carolina, in book 365 at page 562, (the latter Trustee having left the State and being unable to execute the trust the undersigned, Julian R. Allsbrook, has been duly substituted in his place and stead by appointment duly made April 26, 1928), default having been made in the condition of said deed of trust, the undersigned trustees will on the 27th day of June, 1933 at 11:00 o'clock A. M., at the courthouse door of Halifax County, in the Town of Halifax, North Carolina, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real property, to-wit:

All that certain lot or parcel of land, with the improvements thereon, situated, lying and being in Roanoke Rapids Township, Halifax County, North Carolina, fronting 50 feet on the West side of B. Street and running back the same width 227 feet, and being shown and designated as Lot No. 8 in Block D., according to the map or plat of the Massengale property, which said map or plat is duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Halifax County, North Carolina, in plat book No. 2 at page 152, to which reference is hereby expressly made for greater certainty of description.

This notice dated and posted the 24th day of May, 1933.

JOHN A. CUTCHINS
TRUSTEES and
JULIAN R. ALLSBROOK,
Substituted Trustee.

CHILEAN NATURAL NITRATE

Immediate action... whether it rains or not. Non-acid. Vital valuable rare elements: iodine, potassium, calcium, etc., just as Nature put them there.

To make absolutely sure of getting "Chilean", say "Chilean" when ordering from your dealer. He can supply both kinds —Champion and Old Style. Fine condition.

Lowest Price in its History!

Across The Aisle

"I somehow have a sneaking notion they'll never solve perpetual motion." "I don't believe that for a minute. They've solved it in the House and Senate. The House will get a bill okayed. Up to the Senate it's relayed. Then back it's sent with some revising. The House then offers compromising. The Senate stands pat on its ground. And thus the bill just scoots around like eddies in a storm-tossed ocean. And that, friend, is perpetual motion."

The Roanoke Rapids Building & Loan Association is an example of perpetual motion. It will be here paying good dividends after we are all gone.

Roanoke Rapids Building & Loan Assoc.
12 W. Second Street
DIAL R-444-1