

Miss Camp Hails "Apple Month"

Gives Recipes For 'Old Time' Pudding And A Few Others

By MISS JOHNNIE CAMP

October is the beginning of the real apple season. In many homes barrels or crates of apples repose in the cellar to be consumed during the long cold winters. Apples for eating raw and apples for cooking. And what would we do without apples to bob for in tubs of icy water at Halloween?

Thanks to the many varieties, climates in many sections of the country and modern storing facilities, we have them fresh all year 'round.

Many and interesting are the legends and bits of history in which apples play a prominent part. Remember: Eris threw the Apple of Discord among her rival goddesses which was supposed to have been the cause of the Trojan war; Sir Issac Newton learned of gravity by the falling of an apple; William Tell shot an arrow into an apple on his son's head; and many people even back to our grandmother's day believed implicitly in the curing powers of apples.

The food value of apples varies little, altho no two of them are exactly alike in appearance and texture. They have a high vitamin "C" content which is found in the peel.

Fried Apples and Bacon

Wash and core apples, then cut them into thin slices. Fry bacon until crisp, remove from pan, place apples in bacon drippings; fry until brown. Drain off excess grease, keeping pan hot. Replace on unit and turn to low. Add small amount of water and brown sugar. Cover, cook until tender. Serve piping hot with strips of bacon.

Old Time Apple Pudding

Pare, core and chop fine with chopping bowl four large, sour apples. Mix about one cup of stale bread crumbs with one teaspoon of ground cinnamon and the half of one grated nutmeg, and mix with the apples. Beat the yolks of four eggs and add to the mixture. Stir in the whites carefully, until the whole is moist enough to hold together then steam for three hours in a well greased mold. Serve hot with hard sauce, which should supply enough sweetening, unless the apples are excessively sour.

Cinnamon Apples

Peel and core medium sized apples, fill center with sugar and place in baking dish. (For variation, centers may be stuffed with nuts and raisins or bananas.)

Make a sirup of two tablespoons of red drop cinnamon candy and two cups of water. Let the candy dissolve in the water; cover apples with the red sirup, cover the dish and bake in a slow oven until soft and clear. Serve hot or cold with any kind of meat, or with cream for dessert.

4 tablespoons butter
1-2 cup sugar
1-8 teaspoon nutmeg
1-8 teaspoon cinnamon.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut shortening. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour until soft dough is formed. Spread in greased pan 8x8x2 inches, having dough higher on edges than in the center. Arrange apple sections on top of dough. Bake in hot oven (425 deg.) 30 minutes.

Cream butter, sugar and spices together and spread on top of apples. Decrease heat slightly to 350 deg. F and continue baking 30 minutes longer or until apples are soft. Serve plain or with lemon sauce. Eight servings.

Bottle Beer Off, Using More Draught

North Carolinians drank approximately 429,000 fewer bottles of beer in August than the average for the four months of May, June, July and August. The consumption in these four months was 9,155,849 bottles and 13,833 1-4 barrels, while 1,688,429 bottles and 4,000 barrels were consumed in August.

This shows a dropping off of the bottled drink and an increase of the draught beer but the increase does not make up for the loss in the bottled drink. The total tax on beer to the State in the four months since May 1, is $194,011.70. This does not include the consumption tax for September, which is not collectable until this month.

This is divided into $133,325.00 on consumption, one cent a bottle and $3 a barrel; $30,755 from 205 wholesale distributors; $250 from one bottler; $5,250 from 358 salesmen; $300 from three dealers on trains, and $24,116.50 from 2,466 retailers. This does not include federal, State and city retailer tax.

Back in 1897 the Chicago National League baseball team playing Louisville won by a score of 36 to 7. That's major league record for runs scored. But this year the Albuquerque Dons took a game from the El Paso Texans by a score of 43 to 15.

Farmers Get Cotton Reduction Checks

It was learned through the County Agent's office that a few checks have been received for cotton reduction. The County Agent is mailing out notices to each farmer as soon as the checks are received and requests that farmers not come into the office asking about checks before receiving notice as it will only delay the office work. It will be necessary upon receipt of notice from County Agent, to bring notice of Acceptance to the County Agent's office and sign up in order to receive check.

Ball playing was popular in Egypt 4,000 years ago and a leather ball has been used ever since in almost every country. Batting a ball is a modern invention.
