

TOWN TALK

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cappi and Miss Sallie Stowe, of Norfolk, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stowe.

Miss Mildred May spent Thanksgiving in Rocky Mount visiting her sister, Mrs. Joe Suiter.

J. S. Taylor, of Emporia, Va., spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor.

Mrs. Mary J. Camp is spending this week with Mrs. L. B. Burnette near Garysburg.

PITTARD-MOORE

Beautiful in its simplicity and dignity was the marriage of Miss Loretta Lucille Moore to Lorenzo Lloyd Pittard, which took place at the First Methodist Church, with Rev. S. J. Starnes officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with its chancel banked with pine, autumn leaves, fern and chrysanthemums. White Cathedral candles in the chancel shed a soft light over all.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered with Miss Gladys Cox at the organ.

Shumans "Old Refrain" was the first selection. Miss Agatha Moore of Baltimore, sister of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Sweetest Story Every Told." The bridal party approached the altar to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Wagners "Lohengrin."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Walter L. Moore. She was attended by her sister, Miss Josie Moore as maid of honor. Little Edith Hope Moore, niece of the bride, and little Mary Brittain were flower girls.

The bridegroom was attended by J. Norman Dixon, of Winston-Salem, as best man.

The bride was dressed in an ensemble of navy blue with corresponding accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of roses and valley lilies. The maid of honor was lovely in a brown crepe ensemble and wore a shoulder corsage of talisman roses. The little flower bearers wore dainty ruffled pink point de sprit dresses and carried baskets of pink roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Moore of this city. She is a graduate of Roanoke Rapids High School. Since her graduation she held a responsible position in the office of Patterson Mills Company.

The bridegroom who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Putard of Aurelian Springs, was educated at Aurelian Springs High School and the University of North Carolina. He is Field Supervisor of McCall and Cande-Nest Publishing Company of New York.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

Raleigh, Dec. 7.—Motor vehicles license plates were placed on sale Friday morning by the State Department of Revenue at its home office here and at 45 branch offices in the State and these plates will be usable from the date of sale, Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell announces.

The selling time has been advanced from December 15 to December 1 as part of a positive plan to make January 1 the deadline for the use of old plates, Mr. Maxwell states, saying that it gives every motorist 30 days in which to comply with the positive provisions of the law.

"Consistent policy, that avoids discrimination and treats every motorist alike, requires a fixed time beyond which the use of old license plates on the highways will not be permitted. The law fixes this time as the first day of January. It has been agreed by all administrative agencies, therefore, that this provision of the law will be strictly enforced after sunrise on January 1. All police officers of counties and cities will be requested to join the enforcement officers of the State to see that this provision is strictly enforced on and after that date with no favoritism to anyone," Mr. Maxwell states.

The 45 branch offices and the names of branch managers are as follows:

Mrs. T. R. Wollett, president of the Hollister Home Demonstration club, welcomed 150 representatives to the annual fall meeting of the County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs. The meeting was held in the M. E. Church at Hollister. The representatives were from the following clubs: Halifax, Calvary, Darlington, Heathsville, Spring Hill, Aurelian Springs, Ringwood, Hardawee, Tillery and Hollister.

The Calvary club carried away the loving cup for having the greatest percentage of its members present and Darlington club received the cup for bringing the most visitors.

Mrs. R. L. Applewhite, acting vice president, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. N. L. Stedman, president of the federation. Mrs. Stedman is living in Florida and tendered her resignation as president of this organization.

The federation elected its officers for the 1934-36 term as follows:

Mrs. R. L. Applewhite, Pres.
Mrs. W. R. Neville, Vice-Pres.
Mrs. F. W. M. White, Secretary.
Miss Marie Moss, Treasurer.

The Hollister club furnished three musical selections on the program which the federation enjoyed.

Reports from the clubs made up the day's program. These reports covered three projects, namely:

1. What my club has done in a social way to raise the morale of the club and community.
2. What my club has done to raise the necessary funds to promote such projects as sending delegates to the short course held in Raleigh each summer, paying county federation dues, contributing to the Jane S. McKimmon Loan Fund, helping the needy and unfortunates in our midst, buying club equipment as pressure cookers and sealers, buying shrubbery for the court house lawn, community churches, etc.

3. What my club has done toward making toys and other gifts for Christmas.

Each club bringing something to add to the exhibit of Christmas ideas and exchanging patterns.

The luncheon hour was enjoyed by all. The Hollister club served a most bountiful lunch.

The federation accepted an invitation to meet with the Hobgood club on the third Thursday of March.
