WHAT'S IN A NAME? PLENTY, SAYS BILL

Remember how the hero in the book would say, "I must do this to protect my good name"? And feuds and wars and changes in history have come about because somebody cast disparaging remarks about somebody's name.

People make a good living out of tracking back family names and building up the old family tree. All of which probably prompted whoever it was to say, "What's in a name"?

The most amusing things can happen when two people possess the same name. And again the most troublesome, as when one gets the others mail and telephone calls.

Then there is the embarrassing side to having the same name as somebody else, as for instance last week when a William Alligood was held on charges of kidnapping and assault on a female. If the girl's story as told the court and officials is true, this is one of the most terrible crimes which has ever been committed in this community.

Now comes the unfortunate part of our story, which has to do with names. Of the same name as the accused man is William (Bill) Alligood of Roanoke Rapids.

No finer young man ever lived in any community than Bill Alligood. With his Boy Scouts, his sand lot football and baseball teams, his junior Legion teams, Bill Alligood probably does more actual, downright good for the young boys of Roanoke Rapids than any other dozen men. All the kids worship him and he exerts a wonderful and comradely influ-

One leading citizen once told the writer that if he had the money, he could think of no better way to spend it than to employ Bill Alligood to spend all his time with the young boys of this city, which is our idea of a real compliment.

Because of his Boy Scout and Legion activities, as well as the fact that the News & Observer and other state newspapers call on him to pick the All-Northeastern Conference teams, Bill is known all over the State.

So it was most embarassing when he heard that people outside of Roanoke Rapids were wondering if he were the one in troubl. Roanoke Rapids people who know Bill, smiled when they saw the name in the paper, but never gave the matter another thought. It was those away from here who wondered.

Bill paid no attention to it at first. It seems that once before this other William Alligood has on this Sunday, December 10th, run afoul the law on some minor when the band will give a concert charge. But this man was from Weldon, so near to our city, and the hearing was held before a Roanoke Rapids magistrate, so outsiders became confused.

The News & Observer ran an explanation in yesterday's issue. One part of the story should have been changed also. Magistrate Thompson cleared the room of spectators but permitted the press to remain. And it was a horrible story which was unfolded. Perhaps the matter has not gained greater importance because the girl who has brought the charges is a stranger here. Had the same thing happened to a local girl, it is the writer's opinion that the town would have been thoroly aroused.

But to come back to the main story, and the answer to the question, What's in a name?, our Roanoke Rapids Bill Alligood can answer, Plenty, when another fellow has the same name as yours.

Smith Announces He Has Employed Expert Plumber

H. L. Norman, formerly of Durham, has joined the plumbing department of J. C. Smith, and will assume his new duties next Monday morning.

Mr. Norman is said to be a skilled workman with many years of experience. He was connected with the Cities Service Company in Durham, and comes to Roanoke Rapids with a thorough knowledge of city plumbing codes.

Mr. Smith stocks a complete line of plumbing supplies and equipment at his store nextdoor to the Imperial Theatre.

PENDERS INSTALL MARKET

The D. Pender Grocery Company, located in the South-end business section of the city will open a new and modern meat market at their present store on Friday morning, it was announced this week.

Earl Lewis, formerly of Lumberton, N. C., will be in charge of the meat department, while R. C. Bachelor remains as manager of the grocery department.

The Pender store has been located in the city for a number of vears, and has made a series of improvements since coming here, principal of which was moving into their new and enlarged store at 1026 Roanoke Av. on July 1st, of thi syear.

The store has progressed under the capable management of Mr. Bachelor, who has managed the grocery department for several years. Added service to their customers, and confidence in the future of Roanoke Rapids are the reasons given for the latest expansion. All of the equipment for the market is of the latest and most modern type. A full line of all kinds of meats will now be carried at Penders.

CONCERT BY BAND

Roanoke Rapids will be hosts to the East Carolina Concert Band at the High School auditorium.

MAN WANTED - for Rawleigh routes of 800 families in Counties of Southeast Northampton, Northwest Hertford, Southeast Hertford and West Northampton. Reliable hustler should start earning $25 weekly and increase rapidly. Write immediately. Rawleigh Co., Dept. NC-48-S., Richmond, Va. 4t-12-7

LOST-Bunch of 5 Keys on Shell Gas Co., ring. Return to Roanoke Rapids Hospital

1t-12-7-np

LOST-Last Wednesday night black week-end bag containing wearing apparel and other articles. Finder please return to The Herald and receive reward.

1t-12-7--np.

The program will start at 3:30 p. m., according to J. W. Saunders the conductor. George Frost Barnes of Wilson, is the vocal soloist and Edward Simms will render a cornet solo.

pieces in the band with the best talent in Eastern Carolina. This band has played once a month in some Eastern city for the past two years and is ranked with the best in the state.

W. J. BRITT FUNERAL SUNDAY

W. J. Britt, age 58, died at the at 2:10 o'clock after an illness of several weeks. He has for years been a resident of Roanoke Rapids esteemed by all.

He was employed by the Roanoke Mills Co., and was a faithful worker. Mr. Britt was twice mar- packs of trained dogs and several ried, first to Miss Patty Lewis, and guides, left only a little time for last to Miss Emmy Grant. He is survived by his last wife and three children, Jessie Ruth, Louise, and Atlas, and four children by his were Bill Medlin, on his first deer first wife, Horace and Ernest hunt, Paul Harris and F. C. Wood. Britt, Mrs. Jimmie Rogers, and Mrs. Shelton Ivey, and five grandchildren, all of Roanoke Rapids.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at 2:30 from his home at 52 Jackson Street, Mr. Roach officiated. There was a large attendance. Burial was in Cedar his stand, but he shot the dogs-Wood Cemetery.

21 LOCAL HUNTERS ON BIG DEER CHASE

Or More As Kemp Loses Shirt Tail

by a party of 21 local hunters who spent the weekend at Camp PD as the guest of F. C. Williams and Hugh Camp.

Superintendent and overseers of Roanoke and Patterson Mills were invited on the party. Leaving here last Friday afternoon, they journeyed to the camp, which is owned by the Camp Mfg. Co. It local hospital, Saturday morning is located at the junction of the Nottaway and Meherrin Rivers. There are thousands of acres of protected woodland and the huntand was well known and highly ers returned with glowing tales of plenteous game of all kinds.

A possum hunt Fri. night and a deer hunt Saturday, with three the huge meals prepared for them by three cooks.

Three local men killed deer. They One missed his shot and was given the usual punishment: his shirt tail was cut off. That was Frank Kemp. The others saw plenty of deer but never got a shot at them.

Supt. A. Miekle missed two deer which came within a few feet of with his movie camera. Mr. Miek- also invited to attend.

There will be from 35 to 40 Kill Four Deer; See Twenty le vows the deer never came his way. He says the only thing he saw was the pack of dogs, so he put down his gun and grabbed his Four deer were killed and a camera. The other boys say the score or more seen at a distance | deer were right in front of the dogs and are awaiting development of the film hoping a glimpse of the deer might be in it.

Those on the hunt were: Murphy Jackson, Gene Wells, William Medlin, Frank Williams, Hugh Camp, Paul Harris, Jack Cassada, Sam Turner, Clyde Liske, Bill Hodges, A. Miekle, Frank Kemp, Max Higgins, W. S. Dean, Robert Howell, William Jackson, J. C. Farmer, Ewell Gowen, Sam Peace, Jr., and Dr. Covington.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

All North Carolina citizens interested in good government are urged to tune in on any North Carolina station at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, December 12th when the Institute of Government will broadcast a special statewide program.

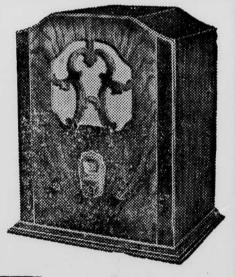

A large radio is being installed in the High School auditorium by Shell Furniture Co., and all High School children will assemble to hear the program. The public is

A RADIO

from J. C. Smiths-

Will bring Long and Lasting Happiness to everyone in the Family. What gift could be more appropriate? Buy To-day on our EASY TERMS—

PHILCO from $29. RCA-Victor - - $32.95 Up

In our Plumbing Department

We Take Pleasure in Announcing that formerly of Durham, will be connected with us

To our already efficient facilities for caring for your plumbing we have obtained the services of a skilled workman who is thoroughly versed in state and city standards. Mr. Norman is a former employee of the Cities Service Co., Durham.

We have complete stock of plumbing supplies and fixtures—at the OLD prices, and can give you prompt, efficient service. Let us estimate your plans today. From planning to installing.

NO JOB TOO LARGE or SMALL—Call

J. C. SMITH

EASY TERMS ON ALL MERCHANDISE

Nextdoor Imperial

DIAL R-363