"NEW TIME" is the latest movement. On the theory that October and November are the two best months outdoors, proponents advocate two hours daylight savings for those months. Their charts show it daylight at 8:30 p. m. October first and still daylight at 7 p. m. December 1st. Under present time it is dark a little after 5:30 p. m. October first. They claim early risers in those months must use artificial light anyway to dress by. Sounds alright. The only trouble is getting everybody to follow the same rule. They have not been able to do that with summer time daylight savings yet.

The Garden Department of the Womans Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Manning on Monday, Sept. 17th, at 3:30 p. m. All members are urged to be present as this is the first meeting of the Fall.

Strike Causes Lack Of Necessary Operating Funds; Action Delayed.

At a regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Roanoke Rapids Hospital, Inc., held on Tuesday, Sept. 11th, with a large majority of trustees in attendance, the question of the ability of the Hospital to continue in operation was most carefully considered.

Lack of necessary funds, due to the strike situation, with which to continue operation after this week, brought up the discussion. The Hospital trustees are doing all within their power to keep the hospital open and have appealed to the Duke Endowment Fund managers, the FERA and other agencies for assistance but have met with no results which would help the situation.

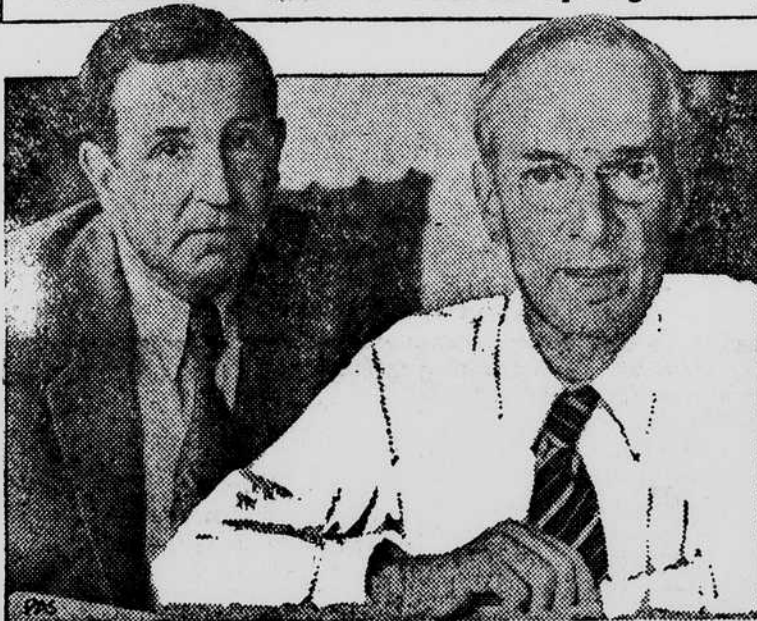

Hoping for some disposition of the strike situation, any definite action regarding the hospital was postponed until Wednesday of next week.

In the meantime only emergency cases will be admitted to the hospital under the hospital's present regular rates.

In the editorial columns of this paper, the operating expense of the local hospital is put at $3,000 per week. This was the figure for a two week's period, the actual operating expense of the hospital for the past year being an average of $6,642 per month.

Curtis Shell, city merchant and president of the Roanoke Rapids Merchants Association, is up after a two week illness. Mr. Shell suffered from a severe attack of "devil's grip" following his return from a recent market trip to New York City.

Upton Sinclair (above, right) Socialist author turned Democrat, is the target of all political eyes as he makes plans for his Fall campaign for election to California governorship on the Democratic ticket. WARSAW PEOPLE INJURED

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Askew of Warsaw, N. C. were injured when their car overturned near the city on the Richmond highway last Saturday night. Mrs. Askew will be confined in Roanoke Rapids Hospital until the latter part of the week, attaches say, while her husband's injuries were of a slight nature, and he was discharged after being given first-aid treatment for minor cuts about the face.

The Askews were returning to their home in Warsaw from Richmond, where they had been for a visit. Their car overturned when he sought to avert a crash with a machine operated by a colored man, which he said came directly into his path from a side road.

Mr. and Mrs. Page Taylor, of Richmond, enroute to Roanoke Rapids to visit Mrs. Taylor's mother, Mrs. J. M. Grizzard, picked up the injured people and brought them to Roanoke Rapids Hospital.

CONDITION OF TYLER IMPROVED

The condition of George Tyler, popular city mail carrier, is much improved, according to word coming from Dr. C. C. Coleman, Richmond physician who performed an operation Sunday. Young Tyler was injured in an automobile accident late last Thursday night, Sept. 6th, when a car he was driving overturned near La-Crosse, Va.

Earl Rook the only other occupant of the car was given emergency treatment for minor cuts and abrasions at the local hospital, and has been discharged.

Tyler was brought to the Roanoke Rapids Hospital late Thursday night where an Xray picture revealed his back was broken. It was feared at first his spinal cord was severed, though according to word coming from Memorial Hospital, Richmond, where he was taken Sunday, a broken back was the extent of the injuries. It is said he is still paralyzed

Tell Governor they did not go out voluntarily; represent majority of Workers

The employees of Rosemary Manufacturing Co., thru their local organization, the Rosemary Textile Workers, Inc., have appealed to Governor Ehringhaus for protection in order to return to work.

First appeal was made last Friday but there was confusion in Raleigh as to its source. The Governor's office apparently, from Raleigh newspaper reports, thought the mill management was asking for troops.

In a long telegram of explanation to the Governor this Tuesday, the employees, who say they have 600 members of the home union out of 850 on the payrolls, again asked the Governor for protection in going back to work, pointed out the fact that they had been out of work two weeks longer than those who went on strike the first of last week, due to the two weeks summer vacation, and pointed out to him that they had not gone out on strike voluntarily but had been forced out by pickets from the other mills.

At press time today, the Governor or Adjutant General Metts had taken no definite action on the matter. Reports say that they are being besieged for troops from all over the State and are sending them to strike areas
