Army Corps Prepares for Strato Assault

The military aspect of this tiny town of tents, erected in a natural bowl in South Dakota's Black Hills, seems to match its purpose: preparation for an impending invasion of the stratosphere. From an adjoining field, within the next few weeks, the second hop into the upper air, sponsored by the National Geographic Society and the army air corps, will begin. In this scene, trees fringing rugged slopes overlook "Main Street" of the army camp, a veritable behive of activity.

"Climb up on top, too, if you want to ... it's steel, you know!"

WHEN you choose your 1935 car, think how it will compare with the new cars a year or two from now! That's what will decide its trade-in value.

Who will want to be driving—then—with anything less than complete steel protection? Terraplane gives you that protection now, in America's only bodies all of steel.

Will you want brakes that are up to date or out of date? Terraplane's police-tested brakes have cut "perfect stopping" almost in half in public tests from coast to coast.

Performance is always important ... and Terraplane has record-breaking performance today, certified by 36 official marks on the A. A. A. record books.

So it is with many other features found in no other lowest price car. Drive a Hudson-built Terraplane today. See for yourself how far ahead of its time it is—in ruggedness, performance, safety—as well as style.
