In step with the new season's trend, "Woman Wanted," which has been selected for the Monday-Tuesday attraction on next week's Imperial program, is a dramatic action picture. It moves to the tune of surprising romance and the menace of racketeering gangsters. It combines the elements that made gangster pictures such popular attractions, a quality which the "G-Men" cycle of films has revived. It features a number of thrilling chases and smash-ups, but also incorporates an intriguing love story.

A lawyer carries on an across-the-light-well flirtation, with a girl. Gangsters wreck a police car. The girl of the flirtation dashes into the lawyer's car. She is a convicted murderess, framed by the mob which, before she gets beyond its clutches, thinks she holds a secret that is dangerous to their safety. Believing the girl's story of innocence, as romance is born, the lawyer and girl set out to find the real killer. Harried by the mob, both lives are in continual danger, with a triangle situation lent to the romantic angle. The pair in the end outsmart the mobsters, one of whom in dying confesses that he is the perpetrator.

Maureen O'Sullivan portrays the woman wanted by both the law and its enemies, while Joel McCrea is the hero who befriends her. An imposing supporting cast for the two stars is composed, in the main, by Lewis Stone, Louis Calhern, Adrienne Ames, and Edgar Kennedy.

Gregory Ratoff is the star of "This Woman Is Mine," for the Wednesday-only, "bargain day" attraction on next week's Imperial program.

Warner Oland's latest screen appearance as that genial and philosophical Chinese sleuth, Charlie Chan, will take place at the Imperial next Thursday and Friday when Fox Film's latest vehicle for the inimitable Oland, "Charlie Chan in Egypt," will be the attraction there.

In this picture, the eighth of the famed Chan stories, the producers have effected an ingeniously thrilling and baffling mystery, it is said. "Charlie Chan in Egypt" is described as the biggest and most pretentious Chan picture yet made, and carries the interest from beginning to end, with Stepin Fetchit adding much to the comedy situations.

The story carries Charlie Chan to the mystery-scented land of the Pharaohs, in the Valley of the Kings, amid the splendors and riches of the last resting places of the mighty monarchs of thousands of years ago. Priceless gold and jeweled treasures have been taken from among those brought to light

Fall Dress and Coat

NEW YORK . . . A one piece dress of zephyr tweed is one of the smart fashions for Fall. It is dark green, chartreuse and black in jacquard weave which blends effectively. A three-quarter length coat of the same material, and a suede felt hat, completes the ensemble.

by the French Historical Society's expedition, near Luxor on the Nile, and Charlie Chan is assigned to trace the thefts and thieves. A killer strikes and with the shadowy hand of death casting its gloom over the entire family of the expedition's leader, Charlie Chan's courage and skill are tested to their limit.

For suspense and ingenuity it is said the newest of the Charlie Chan mysteries tops all its predecessors and Oland once more registers heavily in his most celebrated role. He has a distinguished cast in support, including Pat Paterson, Thomas Beck, Rita Cansino and the Negro, Stepin Fetchit.

Bob 'Steele rides "right into trouble, and right out again" in "Riders of the Law" for the Saturday only bill next week at the Imperial.

MRS. WHEELER FINISHES 10 YEARS AS HOME AGT.

Halifax County Federation Home Demonstration Clubs Meets At Heathsville

The Halifax County Federation of home demonstration clubs met with the Heathsville club at Heathsville Antioch Baptist church on last Thursday with thirteen clubs answering roll call.

The federation recognized Mrs. Wheeler's ten years service as home demonstration agent in Halifax county by presenting her with a kodak.

The visitor's silver loving cup was awarded to The Aurelian Springs club for having the most visitors in attendance and South Rosemary club won the membership cup for having the largest number of members in attendance.

Mrs. Quentin Gregory, home beautification chairman, gave a most interesting lecture and demonstration on "flower arrangement". Some of the arrangements that were demonstrated were mantle, table, miniature, hall and living-room arrangements. In Mrs. Gregory's discussion she emphasized the five essentials of good flower arrangement as follows: (1) Individuality or Distinction; (2) Color Harmony; (3) Relation of Flowers to Container; (4) Measure Balance or Proportion;

(5) Interest or Emphasis.

Mr. V. C. Matthews, principal of the Aurelian Springs High School, pleased the audience with his splendid talk on "Child Development". He especially stressed the duties of the home maker and the influence of the home upon the child the first six years of his life, the period preparatory to school entrance. Mr. Matthews told the federation that every child is entitled to be well-bred, well-fed, well-read, well-wed, and well-led.

Two beautiful three-part religious choruses were rendered by South Rosemary Home Demonstration Club under the direction of Mrs. Agatha Moore Miller.

The federation will hold its fall meeting with South Rosemary Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Merritt and daughter, Alice, are spending the week at Minnesota Beach.
