

ELEVEN CONSTITUTE VARIETY OF CASES AT TUESDAY COURT

Judge C. R. Daniel and Solicitor Wade Dickens disposed of eleven cases on Tuesday, Oct. 8, 1935, at the regular session of Recorder Court.

Richard Wills, who was tried for driving while drunk, pleaded guilty and was fined $75.00 and costs. His driver's license was revoked for eight months.

Bennie White, charged with assault, pleaded guilty. Prayer for judgment was continued on payment of costs.

Richard Hilliard, charged with reckless driving, pleaded guilty. Prayer for judgment was continued on payment of costs and on condition defendant does not drive a car for four months.

Baldy Hines and Acey Byrd, charged with assault with deadly weapon, pleaded not guilty. Prayer for judgment was continued on payment of costs.

S. B. Kitchin, who was tried for driving while drunk, pleaded guilty. He was fined $75.00 and costs and is not to operate a motor vehicle for five months.

W. C. Long, charged with abandonment and non-support, pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty. Judgment was suspended on condition defendant remains of good behavior.

Oscar Harris, charged with assault, prayer for judgment continued. No costs to be paid.

George Gilliam, James Broady, Will Mangum, Claude Outlaw, Blake Patterson, Thomas Garland, Edward Jones, Ben Arrington and Walter Barkley, Jimmie Brewer, and Will Clanton were charged with gambling. Mangum, Patterson, Garland, Jones, Brewer and Clanton were found guilty. Judgment suspended on payment of $10.10 each as to Mangum, Garland, Jones, Clanton and Outlaw. Brewer was sentenced to four months on the roads. Suspended sentence upon payment of costs and good behavior. Prayer for judgment was continued as to Patterson. As to Broady, called and failed.

Gus Pierce alias S. T. Pierce, charged with administering drugs. Transferred to Superior Court.

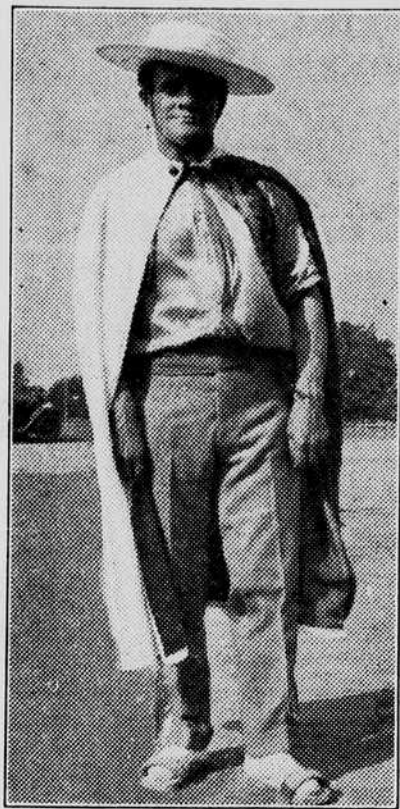

M. H. Cotton, charged with driving while drunk, continued.

Carlton Wallace, charged with reckless driving, pleaded guilty. Judgment suspended on payment of costs.

The Frisco Railroad sued a grocery firm in Federal court in Oklahoma, Okla., alleging one of the trains was damaged when it was run into by the grocers' truck.

Small American flags missing from veterans' graves at Port Huron, Mich., were found to have been used by chipmunks to line their nests.

Ben Beno Saved From Cannibals

BEN BENO, Spanish daredevil of the swinging trapeze, who appears each afternoon and night at the Halifax County Fair before the grandstand, once probably saved his life from cannibals in the district of New Guinea and the Fiji Islands when he put on his famous chair act, using two coconut trees to string his wire.

The wire was so fine the natives never saw it and the cannibals were afraid of this supernatural feat. Instead of using Beno for Brunswick stew, they gave him all kinds of presents in order to get him off the Islands as quickly as possible.

Beno has been in every country in the world except Cuba, Finland and Iceland. He makes Cuba this year, but says that after Monday and Tuesday nights here he does not need to go to Iceland.

Court costs in a suit brought in Oklahoma over ownership of a cow values at $45 have already reached $150, and the case has yet to go to the supreme court.

PREMIUM OFFER TO NEW HERALD SUBSCRIBERS

Usually any prizes given for subscriptions to a newspaper go to the workers, but this week The Roanoke Rapids Herald is giving the premium to the subscribers at this Fair.

If you subscribe for one year to the Roanoke Rapids Herald, we will give you, printed while you wait, a package of Fifty calling cards. This would ordinarily cost you a dollar and we hold this offer open only to Fair visitors at our booth this week.

Calling cards, in Mister, Mrs. or Miss sizes, are always needed: when you go calling, when you are away visiting and meet folks who want to remember your name, when you send presents, when you are introduced to somebody - always have a few of your name cards with you.

You get fifty of these, along with a year's subscription to Halifax County's largest newspaper, carrying all the important news of the county and the county's largest city - all for the price of the ordinary subscription. Visit the booth and give the young lady there your subscription today.

Daring Auto Drivers Will Pilot Cars In Saturday Races Here

The sensational auto races of next Saturday afternoon will provide Fair patrons with all the thrills they will need for many a day to come. We started to say "thrills and spills" but, of course, nobody wants a spill; yet you can't tell what will happen when those racing cars, geared to high speed, start zooming around the race track.

Famous racers of national reputation will drive the cars including such speed kings as Fred Bales, John Seymour, Bert Hellemubber, John Witt, Buddy Bledsoe, Ernie Brown and others.

CIVIL JURY HAS EASY TIME IN SUPERIOR CO'RT

The civil term of Halifax Superior Court, in session this week, had juries tried, chosen, sworn and empaneled in several cases but up until today they had not decided on a single case except divorce judgments. Most of the cases were decided by consent judgments. Several were non-suited.

Edward Tippet brought suit against the Rocky Mount Sanitarium, claiming an injured leg had been set wrong. At the close of plaintiff's testimony Judge Clayton Moore non-suited the case.

Divorces were granted to Mary Lou Edwards Barber from S. G. Barber, Joe Neal from Rosa Neal, Mary Ellen Allen from Walter O. Allen, Mittie Bryant from Paul Bryant, Rufus Lovegrove from Annie Mae Landing Lovegrove, C. E. Sears from Eleanor Sears, Willie Lee Wodoruff from Dancy Woodruff, L. E. Shaw from Courtney Ann Harris Shaw, Mable DeLoatch from John Henry DeLoatch, Lillie Clanton from Willis Clanton.

A consent judgment of $600

CHARITY DRIVE TO START 20th

The Associated Charities of Roanoke Rapids will start its annual drive for funds on October 20th.

During the past year, this organization has spent nearly $1,200 for local aid to the needy. This year, the need will be still greater as families are taken off the Federal relief rolls.

Citizens are asked to make their most liberal donations to this splendid cause.

Henry Carpenter of Chichester, Eng., retired as a postman after 42 years' service, estimates that he has walked 153,300 miles on duty.

and costs was rendered in the case of J. H. Evans vs the A.C.L. in a mule shipment case. O. F. Ray vs Drs. Long and Jarman, defendants demurrer was sustained. A. T. Garris was ordered to pay $3 alimony per week for two years to Mrs. Garris' attorney. Several important civil actions were continued upon agreement of counsel.
