

Military Services For Drowned Man

Last rites were held at Weldon Sunday afternoon for Paul Massey, who was drowned in the high waters of the Roanoke River Monday morning, Jan. 20, but was not located until Saturday morning, Jan. 25.

The services were conducted at the funeral home by the Rev. Fountain. Paul was born and raised near Pleasant Hill but lived his last years in Weldon. He was 37 years of age.

He was a volunteer in the World War at the age of 19 and served 18 months overseas.

Burial took place in the family burying ground near Pleasant Hill, military services being conducted.

He leaves to mourn their loss his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Massey of Weldon, two sister, Mrs. J. A. Carver of Weldon and Mrs. J. R. Osburn of Scotland Neck, and one brother, Walter Massey of Gumberry.

Tom White Starts Service Station Here 1st of Month

Tom White will operate the Service Station at the corner of the Avenue and 9th Street, beginning Saturday, Feb. 1st.

Mr. White has leased the station from the Gulf Refining Co. and as Tom says, "The place belongs to me". It was formerly Starke's Station, prior to that Joyner Service Station.

Paul Woodruff, for many years a popular employee of the station, will continue on with Tom. The new operator was for many years with Smith's and Grizzard's Service Stations.

Until another name is selected the new station will be known as Tom White Service.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Allsbrook spent Wednesday in Richmond.

Lone Flying Priest
TORONTO, Can. . . . Rev. Father J. M. Coulter (above), Canada's sole "flying priest," came out of the Northland to plan for a larger and a "closed" plane with which to service his 200,000 square mile parish. Injuries to his knees several years ago caused him to give up canoe and dog-team travel.

First Air Lines "Czar"
CHICAGO . . . Col. Edgar S. Gorrell (above), former army aviator, is the new and the first "Czar" of commercial aviation. He was elected by the recently organized Air Transport Ass'n. His job is to coordinate the commercial lines.

G. L. Latta Dies

Call Faculty Play "This Is The Life"
For you who go to the theatre to laugh, and you who go merely to be entertained, and you who like melodrama, and you who live in the romance of the characters upon the stage, and for those who are not above being taught a little lesson, the Aurelian Springs Faculty have chosen as their play this year, the sparkling, clever little comedy drama, "This Is The Life", by Robert Ray. The play has just recently been released and has already enjoyed a successful, professional run. It will be given at the Aurelian Springs School on Thursday night, Feb. 6, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. L. B. Ray and children are visiting relatives in Lumberton.
