U.S. FAMILY

NEW YORK - "Unity," the sculpture by Harry Poole Camden, of Parkersburg, West Virginia, which won for him the $10,000 prize in the contest for sculpture to embellish the United States Government Building at the New York World's Fair 1939. The group represents a typical American family being sheltered by the symbol of "Unity." There were 430 contestants in the competition, which was held in the Fair's Hall of Communications.

Their content does not point. Their content does not necessarily express the views of the Lewspaper. However, we welch a short letters of expressions on any matter of general public interest from any Herald subscriber. All must be signed.

The Herald, Dear Carroll:

Just a few words about our ball club here in Wichita. We arrived about six o'clock, Saturday, after about 50 hours of riding. The boys seemed very jolly all the way. They did almost everything to keep awake from smoking, singing, and some even nursed babies on the way up. The comedians were Vic Bradford and "Smut" Aderholt. I wish that our friends could have seen these boys put it on. It was just like a real show when they started, but it took Joe Talley, with his dry jokes, to hush them up.

These boys looked like the same old Owls, in the game, Sunday night; and unless I miss my guess, we are going to give somebody some trouble before this tournament is over.

We appreciate the telegrams we are receiving from our friends, and the Herald. It was passed around many times before it was received. It looked like a young Carter, Est., Jack & Sally, 42 ac Carter land war had started to find out who was to read it first. You might send more if you can, for they are really appreciated by all.

The boys are taking plenty of rest for they want to win the championship for Roanoke Rapids and its baseball fans.

Paul E. Harris, President Roanoke Rapids Baseball Club.
