

R. R. JACKETS OPEN BASEBALL SEASON HERE THIS FRIDAY

The Roanoke Rapids High School Yellowjackets will open the baseball season here this Friday afternoon when they meet Rich Square at Simmons Park at 4 p.m.

According to Coach Cranford Hoyle, the Jackets start the season and an entirely new infield but he retains a veteran battery in Clarence Byrd and Dallas Wright, the Junior American Legion team battery of last year.

Simms and Howell at second base and Stewart at shortstop also saw service with the Legion team last year.

The Conference Schedule will start Friday, March 31 when the Jackets play New Bern there. A schedule of the remaining games will be announced next week.

Rocky Mt. Shooters Here 25th

The skeet team from Rocky Mount which was to have shot a return match with local stars here Sunday, March 13th, but was unable to keep the engagement because of rain, is scheduled to "shoot it out" with the locals at the Roanoke Rapids Skeet Club next Sunday afternoon.

Advance information is to the effect that the Rocky Mount aggregation will bring five of their crack shots to Roanoke Rapids to "avenge" the trimming they received at their last appearance here Sunday, March 5th.

Several guests from Emporia, Rocky Mount and Roxobel are expected, and will doubtless hold exhibition matches the duration of the afternoon. The public is cordially invited to witness these exhibitions, and there are grandstand seats provided, admission free, for the matches. The Roanoke Rapids Skeet Club is located on the Bolling Road, about two-miles from the city.

Last Sunday Chief-of-Police H. E. Dobbins scored high for one round, breaking 25 clay pigeons out of a possible 25, and scoring 48 breaks out of a possible 50 for two rounds. The previous Sunday, Buddy Beckwith duplicated the one-round feat, breaking 25 out of 25, and breaking 47 out of a possible two-round 50.

Mrs. Yerger Hostess

Mrs. Luther Yerger was hostess to the Tuesday afternoon club on Tuesday of this week at her apartment in the Patterson Apartments. Spring flowers were very effective throughout the apartment. A salad course was served at five o'clock. Just before serving time the scores were collected and Mrs. Wilmer Collier was found to hold the highest score and was presented the club prize. The guests of Mrs. Yerger included Mesdames R. M. Daniel, T. J. Taylor, Frank Vaughan, Mike Vaughan, Wilmer Collier, T. H. Wilson, B. E. Stephenson, Tom Cheek, Jack Earman, D. E. Bennett and Roderick Meikle.

Bob Burns And Kenny Baker At Pitts Sunday

For Sunday only, March 26, the Pitts Theatre offers Bob Burns and Kenny Baker in "Radio City Revels", the comedy hit of the year.

On Monday and Tuesday the Pitts brings you Joan Crawford in the greatest picture of her career—"The Ice Follies of 1939", with an all-star cast including Lew Ayres, James Stewart, Lewis Stone and the International Ice Follies.

Playing Wednesday only, March 29, is Ann Gillis in "Little Orphan Annie".

On Thursday and Friday, March 29-30, the Pitts Theatre proudly presents Loretta Young and Richard Greene in "Kentucky", the saga of the blue grass, filmed entirely in gorgeous technicolor. Remember, this picture is playing a limited two day engagement, so don't miss it.

Coming to the Pitts Theatre Saturday only, April 1, is a thrilling western—"Purple Vigilantes", starring the Three Mesquiteers; plus another chapter of that exciting serial, "Flaming Frontiers".

E.C.T.C. Club Meets

East Carolina Teachers College Club met at Mrs. B. J. Dunning's on Tuesday evening with Misses Evelyn and Amanda Tillman, Katherine Reid and Mrs. Jesse Harrell as hostesses.

After a short business session several progressions of bridge were played. Mrs. Talton O'Briant received high score prize and Miss Hazel Whitehurst floating prize.

Delightful refreshments were served to the following guests: Misses Frances Newsome, Ella Gibbs, Hazel Whitehurst, Martha Carson, Martha Whitehurst, Julia Farrior, Mesdames Lawrence Clements, Ralph Knight, W. A. China, Wilmer Collier and Talton O'Briant.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors, the Baraca Class of the Baptist Church, our friends of Roanoke No. 1 and 2 Recreation clubs and the employees of F. W. Woolworth, for their kindness during our recent bereavement.

The Family of Dallas Collins.

City Library Need Current Magazines

The City Library continues to grow. Contributions of books, magazines, and cash are still being made.

About thirty-five children's books are now available. Fiction and biography made up the bulk of the remainder. The Garden Club, a department of the Woman's Club, plans to maintain a shelf in the library. The shelf will carry books on gardens and gardening.

"Life of Jackson" by Tate, "Far Cry", an autobiography dealing with post-Civil War days, "Mansion of Philosophy", by Durant, and "The Life of Christ" by Papini are among the outstanding books on hand at the present.

More current magazines are needed. Mrs. Fred Wilmer, chairman of the book committee, would like to work out plans with magazine subscribers whereby the periodicals might be turned over to the library after the subscribers have finished reading them. The magazines could be left at the library, or Mrs. Wilmer will call for them.

The goal aimed at by the Library Board is a thousand books by June.

New Beauty Shoppe Will Open Here

on page with 3-col 7-inch advt —

A new beauty shoppe will be opened at 930 Roanoke Avenue, in the downstairs building formerly occupied by the Singer Sewing Machine Co., by Mrs. Lucy Hasty-Johnson, on Monday, March 27th, according to announcement made by her this week.

Workmen are busily engaged converting the building into a modern, up-to-date shoppe, and it is thought that it will be ready for occupancy by next Monday. The new shoppe will be known as the Lucy Hasty Beauty Shoppe, Mrs. Johnson's maiden name.

Mrs. Johnson is this week attending the International Beauty Shop Owners Convention, at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York City. Immediately upon her return she will announce the operators who will be employed at her new shoppe, together with other details.

Mrs. Johnson is well-known to beauty shoppe patrons of Roanoke Rapids and vicinity, having been connected with shops here for 14-years. One of the first local girls to take up this work, Mrs. Johnson has a wide following among local patrons, and she will undoubtedly make a success of her new venture.

Mrs. Loy Entertains

This week's meeting of the Monday Night Bridge Club was at the home of Mrs. H. S. Loy, Mrs. D. C. Clark being the only guest outside of the regular members which were Mesdames Frank Hawley, Howard Pruden, Fred Wilmer, Carroll Wilson, Julian Allsbrook, Rives Manning and Miss Ruth Transou. Spring flowers were most effective in arrangement throughout the house. The winner of the high score prize, Mrs. Rives Manning, was presented an attractive gift. A delightful salad course was served at refreshment time.

MONDAY, MARCH 27th

- by MRS. LUCY HASTY-JOHNSON

We feel that we need little introduction to beauty parlor patrons of Roanoke Rapids. Our new shoppe will be the most modern and up-to-date that can be provided, and we will employ a corps of operators who will give you pains-taking and "personal service" at all times. Workmen are now busy completely remodelling the building to be occupied by our new shoppe, and we believe it will be ready for you Monday, March 27th. This is your invitation to visit the new —
