Six Roanoke Rapids boys will meet tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at the South playground of the High School to decide who will be the marble champion of Roanoke Rapids and represent this city in the marble tournament for the State at Greensboro on Friday, May 19th.

These six boys are champions of their school in tournaments held this week under the supervision of the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs of Roanoke Rapids which sponsor the city-wide tournament and will pay the expenses of the city champ and a chaperon to the State Tournament.

Runners-up in the school contests were Paul Evans, Robert Beale, Bill Baird, Albert Tanner, Lester Gibson, and David Myrick.

The members of the two clubs who supervised the school tournaments were Charley Davis, Ted Speight, Bill Hodges, Pete Graham, Neal Pharr, Roddy Meikle, Ned Manning, Cranford Hoyle, Bill Harris, Howard Pruden.

Several hundred boys in the city schools competed in the contest which has run most of this week.

Tomorrow, the city champion, in addition to his free trip to Greensboro, will be awarded a silver medal and later he will be given a special sweater with the Kiwanis and Lions emblems on the front and "Roanoke Rapids Champion" on the back. WHEN LIFE IS DONE

When life is done I know there is one who'll always grieve for me, When life is done there's one in dreams she'll see.

She is a little lady with hair that's silvery white;

She is so kind and gentle and prays for me each night.

I long to see her smiling face, I crave her tender care,

I know she is always watching my footsteps everywhere.

She is my guiding angel, but now she is all alone.

Some day I hope to meet her when life on earth is done.

I hope to be a little turtle dove, I'll grow big wings; I'll do big things

Just like my mother's love and fly across land and sea.

I'll swing my wings above the stars and meet my mother there.
