H. MILLER IS PAROLED

Hubert Miller, 16 year old Roanoke Rapids boy, convicted at the January term of Halifax Superior Court for assault with attempt to rape on his own confession and given a sentence of from 18 months to 3 years, has received a temporary parole after serving six months of his sentence.

Miller, who confessed to local police that he had molested other girls in Roanoke Rapids, was caught by police after an assault on a popular young High School girl on the main street here in front of the Presbyterian church in January of this year.

A notice was discovered today on the bulletin board of the courthouse at Halifax, dated June 6th, 1939, stating Governor Hoey had considered the case and all persons opposing parole in the case were requested to notify Edwin Gill, the Commissioner of Paroles at Raleigh.

The record in Raleigh shows that a temporary parole of four months has been granted Miller, who is to be in the home of a respectable citizen during that period, in a community removed from Halifax County, trying to adjust himself to return to society.

It is understood here that he will remain the four months period in the home of Cromwell Daniel, formerly a lawyer in Littleton, now a resident of Raleigh. Mr. Daniel is the husband of Miller's sister.

It is also understood that, if after investigation by the Parole Commissioner's office, it is found that Miller nas "rehabilitated" himself in four months that the parole will become permanent.

3 HURT IN WRECK

Mrs. R. A. Daniel, wife of the local dentist, their small daughter and Mrs. Daniel's aunt, Mrs. M. M. Carpenter, were seriously injured in an automobile crash this morning at Whittakers.

Mrs. Carpenter is most seriously injured, sustaining a dislocated hip, painful bruises and possible internal injuries. Mrs. Daniel received a painful blow on the forehead and other bruises. The child, two years old, is not seriously injured.

The three were on their way to Raleigh to visit Mrs. Daniel's mother. At the Whittakers stop light on the main highway, a truck stopped for the red light and the Daniel car crashed into the rear end of the truck. The three injured persons were brought to the Roanoke Rapids Hospital in an ambulance.

Car and truck were badly damaged.
