Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer In LOVE AFFAIR Is Sunday-Only Film At Imperial

Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer will be presented to the Imperial patrons Sunday only when "Love Affair" will be shown on its return engagement.

Miss Dunne plays the role of a woman of the world; Boyer is seen as a Continental Casanova. Although both are engaged to people of wealth and are without financial stability themselves, the two fall desperately in love with each other during an ocean trip.

Because it is the first real love to come into their ill-spent lives, they agree to forsake their chance at luxury, Boyer to make good in six months.

The valiant efforts of the two to justify their existence, their respective trails of sacrifice, bitter disappointment and brave struggle, and an unforeseen accident that forces one to drop from the other's life, are events which build toward an intensely dramatic climax when Fate finally reunites them.

Walter Connolly, Iris Meredith and Onslow Stevens will be seen Wednesday only at the Imperial in "Those High Grey Walls."

Connolly, central figure of the film, is cast as the beloved and kindly country doctor, who is serving a jail sentence because he let his humanity outweigh his moral scruples.

The story concerns the clash between the competent and understanding country physician and the young prison surgeon whose word is law in the penitentiary hospital. Swift momentum is gained with the introduction of a prisoner who tries to leave prison in order to obtain a cache of $10,000 he has secreted outside. Unfortunately, other convicts know of this hidden gold. The two doctors join in fighting intrigue and danger, using their deep understanding of man in an attempt to forestall a break. "Hawaiian Revue," which is reviewed elsewhere on this page, will be presented on the stage.

HAWAIIAN SHOW AT IMPERIAL

The Imperial Hawaiians are coming to the Imperial Theatre for the Wednesday-only stage show next week, November 29th.

As the curtains are drawn on this unique stage attraction, the full Hawaiian moon is shining in all its brilliant glory and casting its silvery reflections on the water, as the waves of the tropical ocean beat against the sandy shore. Then comes one of the most beautiful scenes ever produced upon any stage. A large passenger ship, with all its lights gleaming, sails through the water and on into Honolulu harbor. This scene is so realistic that it gains the immediate approval of the audience.

The Imperial Hawaiians, in their latest creation, "A trip to the Hawaiian Islands", is composed of a troupe of talented artists, singers, dancers and musicians which include the only and Original Electro Orchestra. The Hula Dancing girls execute the Hawaiian dances as only Hawaiian girls can.

The entire group form a singing chorus, led by that wonderful contralto Rose Kalima, a singer of Hawaiian songs, who has been a regular contributor to the programs of the C.B.S. for the many years that she has been a featured artist on the Steel Pier at Atlantic City, N. J.

a theme as timely as tomorrow's headlines and romance to thrill you, see "20,000 Men A Year" at the Imperial Thursday-Friday.

This production concerns the college youth of the nation, who are taking to the sky thousands strong in the year-old Civil Aeronautics Authority program for training civilian fliers.

The story is set in a small air field in California, selected by the CAA to train students from a neighboring college.

As you know, the purpose of this program is the stimulation of private flying as a means of promoting commerce and contributing to the progress of American aviation.

The film, which features Randolph Scott, Preston Foster and Margaret Lindsay, is told from the viewpoint of the girls who love them and the men who train these eager lads.

Randolph Scott is the instructor in charge; Foster is a CAA official, described as a "tough buzzard with eagle feathers," who wins Scott's enmity but lives to change his mind.

And Margaret Lindsay is the sister of one of the fledglings, who doesn't want to see her brother fly—and doesn't care for flyers, until she falls in love with Scott!

The picture moves at a smart pace, with plenty of pulse-quickening flying, thrilling drama, appealing romance and rib-tickling comedy.

The supporting cast includes Jane Darwell, Kane Richmond, Mary Healy, George Ernest and Maxie Rosenbloom.

Charles Starrett will be presented to his many fans Saturday only at the Imperial in "Outpost of the Mounties."

"Overland With Kit Carson" will be added.

Mesdames R. A. Pullen, W. C. Leonard, J. C. O'dell, Misses Hattie and Alma O'dell and Hubert Parrish spent Saturday in Richmond.
