

Lions Hear Clary On Federal Aid

Lion Morris Clary discussed before his fellow Lions here tonight the question of federal aid for state schools. Mr. Clary, who has won wide recognition for his study of school problems, serving at the present as chairman of the Publicity Committee for the N.C.E.A., pointed out reasons why citizens should get behind a bill for federal aid in the present term of Congress.

The program began tonight with a minute's silent tribute to Lion Joe Wells.

Carlton Cannon, Joe Talley, Stuart Hall, and Elmer Starke were voted into membership.

Pete Graham was selected as a member of the board of directors to fill the vacancy left by the death of Joe Wells.

Man Admits Driving Car In Collision

Junious Williams, colored, confessed to officers this week that he was driving the car that was said to have been the cause of the three-car smashup just east of the Junction on the Weldon road last Thursday night. David Hawkins, who ran from the scene of the accident, was at first reported to be the driver of the machine.

Williams, who was injured about the face in the accident, told the officers after the accident that Hawkins was driving the car. Later he retracted the statement, saying that he did not know why he had made such a statement to them.

He was arrested this week on a charge of reckless and careless driving.

The wreck involved three cars. One was the car driven by Williams in which Hawkins was riding. Another was that of Clyde Husketh whose machine was upset in the accident, he and his wife both escaping injury. The other machine was that of R. O. Carpenter, tax collector. Mr. Carpenter and Tom Taylor were both cut about the face, but not seriously. Mr. Carpenter was not admitted to the hospital, although Taylor remained in the hospital for a couple of days.
