

Dare County, another Eastern county, was second. The contest was based on amount of money raised, number of individual contributions and population.

Two newspapermen headed the finance committees of the winning counties. Victor Meekins, eastor- en Glove tournaments. owner of The Dare County Times, was chairman for Dare County. Carroll Wilson, editor-owner of The Roanoke Rapids Herald, was chairman for Halifax County. Both will attend the inauguration of

R. J. Reynolds, former State Fipointed National Treasurer of the ters in Washington.

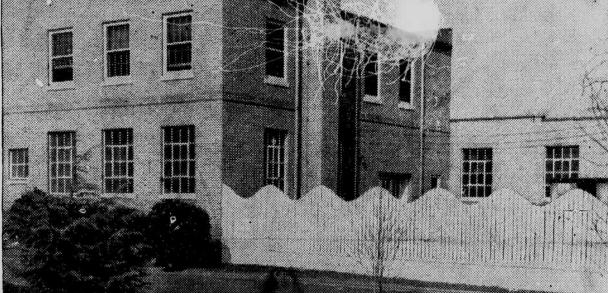

First Golden Gloves Tournament in Roanoke Rapids will be held in the gymnasium of the Roanoke Rapids High School on next Friday and Saturday nights. From the fighters will be picked a team to represent Roanoke Rapids at the Raleigh and Wilmington Gold-

John Marshall, Sports Editor of The Raleigh Times and chairman of Raleigh Golden Gloves, will be a visitor in Roanoke Rapids next Friday night to cover the fights for State newspapers.

Coach Lonnie Blackwelder has been working with the local boys every night and they are beginning to show up well. Local fight fans can be assured of red hot battles in the opening round of the Tournament on Friday night and in the finals on Saturday night. The first fight in the affair will start promptly at 8 p.m.

Winners in the local tournament will not only win a beautiful Golden Glove trophy but will also have the honor of representing Roanoke Rapids at the Raleigh Golden Gloves Tournament that is sponsored by the Exchange Club and the Raleigh Times in Raleigh on Jan. 29th to Feb. 1st. Advance publicity indicates that this will be one of the greatest affairs ever staged by the Golden Gloves Committee in Raleigh. The local team of eight men will also enter the Wilmington Star-News-Brigade Golden Gloves Tournament to be held in Wilmington on Feb. 11th, 12th, 13th. 14th. Interest in the Tournament here has mounted rapidly with the entry of several more outstanding fighters in the city, chief among those being J. T. Brown, former N. C. State College boxer and rated one of the best in the Southern Conference; to make it a family affair J. T. and his two brothers have entered although none of them fight in the same class. So far Coach Blackwelder has around twenty entries for the Tournament here, assuring all fight fans of a full card for their ticket. The price of tickets is very reasonable with regular admission for adults going for Thirty-Five Cents, Children up to Sixteen, Fifteen Cents and Ringside, that is all seats on the floor of the Gymnasium close by the ring, going for Fifty Cents. Ringside fans can save by pur-chasing a ticket good for both nights of the Tournament for Seventy-Five Cents. These tickets can (Continued on Page 4, Sec. A)

Above photograph shows that portion of the Municipal building and adjoining grounds in which and on which will be constructed the proposed new city jail. In the Sanitary District shop, corner of which is nearest the camera, will be the main cell room. Immediately east of the building and just inside the white fence extending from the building to the alley will be an additional structure to house the women's cells President Roosevelt and Vice Presand the sound proof cell for unruly prisoners. The shop will also be in this new structure, an ell that will ident Wallace in Washington Monrun parallel to and adjacent to the alley, shutting off all direct view of the jail from the alley. The wall which day as guests of the National Demwill face the camera will be windowless, allowing no sight of jail or occupants from that angle. The three ocratic Committee. large windows in this end of present shop will be of brick glass-escape proof, sound proof, yet giving light to the inside of the jail. There will be no bars in sight. The two windows seen on the alley-side will be nance Director, was last week aphidden by the new structure. Between the present Fire Department garage and the new shop will be a driveway for police cars with prisoners. At the alley will be a high gate, preventing passers-by from seeing Democratic Party with headquaractivities within the prison yard.

Above photograph shows the progress that has been made on the new office building at the corner of Jackson and Fifth Streets for the Roanoke Mills Company. This $30,000 structure is expected to be one of the most beautiful in the city when completed.

CAMPAIGN

BROUGHTON SEES

STEPS TO FILL

Bill Introduced To Exempt Foods

Governor Broughton saw steps taken in the House Tuesday to carry out a major pledge he made in his campaign: that of "taking oils. the sales tax off the atble." This came in less than a week after his inauguration.

Sixty-one House members, headed by J. B. Vogler of Mecklenberg, an old-time sales tax enemy, introduced a bill to remove from the sales tax all foods sold for home tionery. consumption.

The recommendations of the advisory budget commission, transmitted to the legislature Tuesday by Governor Broughton, recommended exemption of what Governor Broughton termed "essential food for home consumption."

Vogler said his bill exempts all foods sold for home consumption. instead of limiting the exemptions to the foods listed in the budget bill. The bill is in line with Governor Broughton's primary campaign pledges, Vogler said. The Vogler list of exempted foods would be:

"Flour and flour products, including macaroni, spaghetti, cake flour, etc.

Meats and meat products in any form.

Cereals and cereal products, including rice, grits, meal and any cereal made from grain. Lard, shortening and vegetable

Fruits and fruit products of all kinds, including pure fruit juices. Dairy products of all kinds, including ice cream, all forms of milk, eggs, cheese, etc.

Sugar and sugar products of all kinds except candies and confec-

Coffee and coffee substitutes. Extracts and spices used in food preparation but not extracts used for beverages.

Seafood and seafood products of all kinds.

Vegetables and vegetable products of all kinds. Molasses and syrups. Salt of all kinds.

