

NEXT WEEK AT ROANOKE RAPIDS THEATRES

DR. KILDARE STORY RETURN FILM OF WEEK

de Havilland And Cagney - Imperial Thursday, Friday

Lionel Barrymore and Lew Ayres in one of their famous Dr. Kildare stories, "Dr. Kildare Goes Home", will be presented at the Imperial Sunday only for the return film of the week. "Kitty Foyle", reviewed on the opposite page, will be shown at the Imperial on Monday and Tuesday.

"The Saint At Palm Springs", with George Sanders and Wendy Barrie, will be the "bargain day" picture presented at the Imperial on Wednesday of next week.

The story centers about three postage stamps worth $65,000 each. Before the stamps are finally placed in the hands of the right person, three are killed and the "Saint" leads a merry chase in rounding up the killers.

"Strawberry Blonde", with Olivia de Havilland and James Cagney, will be offered at the Imperial on Thursday and Friday. It is the story that reaches into the home of many an average citizen, showing how a man realized happiness in a simple home of his own making, with a simple girl, when he had thought that he wanted glamour that another woman might have given him.

James Cagney, in a role more subdued than usual, displays once again that he is an actor of versatility and ability, as the dentist who marries Olivia de Havilland as a second choice, when Rita Hayworth marries Jack Carson, bluffer, grafter and wealthy politician. Miss de Hav is splendid as the girl whose loyalty and love show Cagney that there is much in life beyond wealth. Alan Hale is delightful as Cagney's happy-go-lucky father, and George Tobias is amusing as the Greek barber and friend of Cagney.

As Cagney is faced with an opportunity to administer gas to the man who stole his sweetheart, used him as a dupe and caused him to serve a five-year jail term as a result, a flashback tells that story and returns to the picture's present with Cagney's realization that he, not Carson, is the happy man.

Saturday the Imperial will present Bill Elliot in the "Wildcat of Tucson", a rip-roaring westerner that promises to keep "Western" fans on the edges of their seats. Added will be a chapter of "The Green Archer".

Local Teams Split With Goldsboro

The Roanoke Rapids girls basketball team topped Goldsboro here last Friday night in a thriller 18 to 17, while the boys lost a conference game 28 to 21.

The girls game ended with a double foul being called against Glasgow of Roanoke Rapids and King of Goldsboro. Glasgow made good on her throw. King missed, losing the visitors' chance of tying up the game.

Clyde King, with 13 points led the Goldsboro team. Byrd led the Jax with 8 points.

This game marked the last conference contest for the local team.

HAVE JUST SEEN SCREENING OF KITTY FOYLE AND HONESTLY BELIEVE IT TO BE BEST PICTURE IN SEVERAL SEASONS- GIVE IT MY PERSONAL RECOMMENDATION AND LAYOUT SPECIAL ADVERTISEMENT ON ITS PRESENTATION NEXT WEEK-

LYLE M WILSON

"There's Your Story, Morning Glory" . . . my job is to write advertising, but I am laying my cards on the table in this instance . . . for I believe it would be extremely difficult to write a better, more convincing Ad. for KITTY FOYLE than Mr. Wilson did in his telegram. Hope it lives up to his expectations, and we'll all have an opportunity to see it next Sunday at the Peoples, or Monday-Tuesday at the Imperial.
