

COSTUME PROGRAM CLIMAXES STUDY BY GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scouts of Roanoke Rapids climaxed a study of the Latin American Countries by presenting a representative program on the vacant lots adjoining the scout hut at Eighth and Hamilton Streets Friday evening. Prior to the program, the troops laid fires on the grounds for the five troop suppers.

Immediately after the supper the scouts joined together in singing and dancing folk dances. Following the recreational period, the varied program was presented.

The theme of the program centered about the Pan-American encampment of girl scouts with the North American girls as hostesses. Mary Clark, member of the senior troop, introduced the scouts who represented the various countries studied.

Troop IV, representing Mexico gave a short dramatization of farm life in that country and sang several Mexican songs.

Troop II, representing Argentina and Guatamala, gave a dance used by the natives of the former country. They also presented a highly decorated wagon, representative of the type of art used on festive occasions in Guatamala.

The Brownies presented their cook-out program in an interesting setting with wigwams and fires among the pines. They represented the Incas, fierce Indians who settled in Peru. These "little Indians" presented, in native costume, a Peruvian dance and game.

Troop III made a study of the countries of Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, and Uruguay during the study period this spring and introduced foods and customs of those countries to the other scouts.

The girls prepared foods representing Uruguay and Brazil. They had also Devil food cakes with iced designs like the sidewalks in Brazil. Girls in bathing togs and carrying roses represented the capital of Uruguay, Montevideo. Another girl was dressed in a costume containing much tinware, representative of Bolivia, where the United States gets a great deal of the metal. The girls in troop III also showed a bit of theatre etiquette of Colombia. There the people, when they do not like a show, simply start calling for something better. In order to quiet them, the management has to provide better entertainment.

Troop IV, representing the North American scouts who have been studying folk dances, presented a dance to the tune of "Yankee-Doodle", characteristic of the square dances of this country.

Taps was sung in conclusion. The program, planned on a much larger scale than that presented, was curtailed by the part the scouts played in the recent

Rock Fish Festival.

The scouts from all the troops spent one afternoon cleaning up the vacant lots on which the programs were presented. That occasion ended with a nose-bag feed, well earned by the scouts. Many of the girls have expressed a desire to see these and other vacant lots in the city made more attractive, at the same time affording additional recreational space.

Williams - Landon

Miss Isabel Landon, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean S. Landon, of Russell, Kansas, and C. L. Williams, of this city were united in marriage last Friday afternoon, May 9th, in Ironton, Ohio. The ceremony was performed in the First Methodist Church with Rev. C. W. Mantle officiating. The bride was lovely in a navy blue silk net suit, with blue and white accessories. Her hat was an off the face white straw with a navy veil. Her shoulder corsage was of white gardenias and valley lilies. Preceding the ceremony the organist played a number of semi-classical favorites. The traditional processional and recessional marches were used. The bride entered with the groom's maternal Grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Cohn, of Pemberville, Ohio. The two sisters of the groom, Mrs. Harland Jacobs and Mrs. Elmer Hobart, preceded the bride and her attendant. The groom's attendants were his brothers-in-law, Harland Jacobs and Elmer Hobart.

Immediately following the ceremony a dinner was served to the wedding party and other guests at the hotel following which the bride and groom left for a short trip through Kentucky.

Mrs. Williams is employed as instructor of music in the public schools of Detroit, Michigan. She is a graduate of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and a member of the Mu Phi Sorority. Mr. Williams also took his graduate work at Northwestern. He is now connected with the music department of the Roanoke Rapids High School. They plan to spend the summer with relatives and will return to Roanoke Rapids in the fall to make their home.

Fred Cooper and Bob Moore of State College spent the week-end at their homes here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wood-ruff spent Sunday in Weldon with Mrs. Minnie Turner.
