

PREVENTORIUM TO END SECOND TERM FIVE WEEKS HERE

Thirty Children Have Benefitted From Activities

(By Madeline Lipscomb)

The Roanoke Rapids Preventorium ends the second five-weeks period Saturday, August 16, and thirty boys and girls will go home healthier and happier for their stay and will be better fitted to meet the oncoming year.

The program this year was planned to enrich the children spiritually, mentally, physically and socially. Due to the excellent supervision of Miss Elizabeth Tait and Miss Bertha Walston, and the splendid cooperation of the citizens of the community a varied and entertaining program has been carried out.

The Preventorium committee, personnel, and the boys and girls wish to take this opportunity to express their appreciation for the interest and participation of each individual, organization and club helping to make the Preventorium a most successful camp this summer.

The Lions Club continued during the second term the swimming period by taking the children to the Rosemary Pool on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. Thursday mornings Mrs. Talton O'Briant had a nature study class. Saturday mornings Will Nelson supervised a play period.

In the afternoons after their rest period, from 1 to 3 o'clock, the children wrote news articles to be published in their newspaper, "The Preventorium Sun", on Monday afternoons. J. O. Carter, of the Coca Cola Bottling Company at Weldon, gave each one a tablet and pencil for the newspaper project.

Miss Sue Underhill taught them spatter painting on Tuesday afternoons, and the Roanoke Hardware Company donated screen wire for this activity. The Kiwanis Club carried them to see "Caught in the Draft" last Tuesday afternoon.

On Wednesday afternoons Miss Madeline Lipscomb had a handicraft class, and Miss Edith Bugg went out on Thursday afternoon to play games with them and to play the piano and sing for them.

Monday night was "movie night". Ned Manning, W. A. Wolhar, Coca Cola Bottling Co., and the Rev. Gordon Price and the Rev. Lawrence Stell showed pictures to the children.

Tuesday nights Misses Sara and Margaret Towe conducted a singing hour. Wednesday nights were devoted to "story telling hour". Mesdames Claude Cannon, Lawrence Stell and Lawrence Clements told the stories. Last Wednesday night the Lions Club had them as their guests at the Fetsival, and the children rode all the rides and were treated to pop-corn and soft drinks.

Thursday nights were "party nights" with the church organizations sponsoring the parties. The Rosemary Baptist YWA and GA organizations, the Rosemary Methodist Church, the Episcopal and Christian Young People's organizations entertained the children.

Friday was "picnic nights". The Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Clubs have taken turns in serving supper. This afternoon G. R. Cross is going to give them an ice-cream party.

Saturday night was left more or less for a miscellaneous program. Those having charge of a Saturday night program were: Mrs. Blanche Lane; the Rev. Daniel Lane and daughter, Virginia; and a group from the Rosemary Baptist Church; Mesdames Earl Daughtry, Arlene Cooper; Misses Evelyn Johnson, Hattie Humphries and Anne Matthews; Roy Carver and Paul Overton.

During this term the children have been going to Smith's Church in South Rosemary for Sunday School services.

Drs. Maddrey, Kroncke, Bardin, Higginbotham, Beckwith, Martin, and Hall carefully checked the health of the children during their stay.

A note of appreciation is extended to the following for their donations: Mr. Carter for Coca Colas; Rosemary Drug, Taylor's Drug, Rotary Club, and Bobby Pope for funny books; Triple R Grocery for twine for baskets; Mrs. Wm. Wolhar for magazines; H. L. Fahey for basket of peaches, and T. J. Alford for baseball.

Like a THIEF in the night

Softly, stealthily—like a thief in the night—certain diseases rob you of your greatest treasure—good health. Recurring aches . . . loss of pep and appetite . . . weakness are the most common warnings, but to you they should be nothing more than warnings. Do not attempt self-diagnosis because that is the foremost invitation to trouble. If a thief were in your home, you would seek the help of the police. When illness threatens, lose no time in getting the experienced advice of your family physician. He alone is qualified to diagnose and prescribe for you.
