Futrell Family Reunion Is Held At Allen's Home

The children of the late Cornelius J. and Mattie L. Futrell met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Allen at Drakes Crossroad Sunday in an old fashioned family reunion. Dinner was served on the lawn to Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Brown of Roanoke Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Harvie Coggins and children, Ann and Harvie Fleetwood, and Miss Parthetta McDaniel and Mr. Joe Coggins, of Creeksville; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Futrell and son, Walter, of Weldon; Calvin Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Futrell and children, Lasker, Lois, and Story of Roanoke Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Futrell, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Edwards and son, Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Barnes and children, Mrs. Aubrey Smith and daughters, Rebie and Sylvia, W. J. Duke and children of the Drakes Crossroad section; and J. L. Futrell of Gaston.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hancock and children, and Mrs. Hargrove of Roanoke Rapids came in the afternoon.

A watermelon feast was enjoyed during the afternoon.

"MP" Has Duty To Assist All Army Visitors

When you come to visit any of the 41,000 soldiers stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., don't be afraid when Military Police stop you at the outpost through which you enter Fort Jackson.

The Military Police are there to help you and are under orders to treat you with every courtesy and to answer any questions you might want to ask.

Each "MP" has been thoroughly instructed in how to direct visitors to find soldiers or where their unit is located. If you are not acquainted with any particular soldier but just want to drive over this—the nation's sixth largest Army Post—the MPs can give you an interesting route to follow.

Further, if you enter Fort Jackson by Outpost No. One from Highway No. 76, you will find the Outpost Building a modernistic affair offering rest room accommodations for visitors and a lounge furnished with leather upholstered furniture.

When you reach an outpost going into Fort Jackson, you will be stopped and asked if you are a visitor. If you are, you will be given a yellow and black card which has on one side "Visitor, Fort Jackson, S. C." and a registered number; on the other side are a list of traffic regulations and instructions. Paste the card on your windshield. These regulations mostly deal with civilian traffic vs. military traffic, cautioning you not to break through military convoys on the post, etc.

In driving over Fort Jackson you will no doubt have many questions concerning the 2,000 permanent buildings and over 6,000 winterized tent frames built here in the last 12 months. For answer to your questions ask any "MP" on it—to get accurate answers. It is the duty of these men to answer any and all questions by visitors and to assist them in every way.

When you leave the Post you will be stopped at which ever outpost you pass. Here the MPs will take back your visitors card and with a smart salute, bid you an Army farewell.

SOCIETY MEETS

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Smith Church met in the home of Mrs. Elwyn Garner Wednesday night, August 20th. Mrs. Lillian Smallwood, the President, presided. Seventeen members and five visitors were present. After the meeting the hostess served home made ice cream and cake. The September meeting will be held in the home of Miss Mildred Powell.
