Preliminary Hearing Held For Two Men On Charge Manslaughter

Large Bonds Fixed For Men Charged Girl's Death

W. S. Kirkland waived a preliminary hearing on a charge of manslaughter for the death of Blanche Walston, 11-year-old Scotland Neck school girl, in recorder's court at Halifax yesterday and was bound over to Halifax County Superior Court for trial under $4,000 bond.

Bond was posted in his case, and Kirkland was released from the county jail.

However, William Jones was unable to raise $8,000 bond on a similar charge growing out of the girl's death and remained in jail early this morning. Probable cause was found against Jones, and he was bound over to Superior Court, also.

WARNING

Chief of Police H. E. Dobbins today issued a warning to local motorists that the ordinance adopted by the city board restricting parking in certain areas to two and one-half hours will be strictly enforced by the Police Department of Roanoke Rapids.

The ordinance, which became effective August 15, 1941, states that it is unlawful for any firm, person or corporation to park longer than two and a half hours from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m., except Sundays, on the following streets:

Roanoke Avenue between Ninth and Eleventh Streets, Tenth Street between Hamilton and Madison Streets, and Eleventh Street between Hamilton and Jackson Streets.

Any violator, upon conviction, will be fined $10 for each and every offense.

Signs have been placed in conspicuous places on the streets affected, calling attention to the parking time limit.

Chief Dobbins said, "Some folks seem to have the idea the law is only for poor white folks and Negroes, but it means everybody. And all violators will be given a ticket."
