

ANNUAL KIWANIS LADIES NIGHT BANQUET IS HELD

Latin-Americans Guests Of Club At Yearly Affair

Dr. J. Cordia Lyons, Secretary of the Spanish-American summer school at the University of North Carolina, was the principal speaker at the annual Ladies Night banquet of the Roanoke Rapids Kiwanis Club on Thursday night. The annual affair was held in the social rooms of the Junior-Senior high school.

Also appearing on the program were three residents and natives of Chile, who are attending the school at the University. They were Senorita Eliana Ross Gibson, librarian of the Chilian-British Cultural Institute, and a nurse in the Chilian Red Cross; Senorita Elena Walker Dial, a nurse with the Chilian Red Cross; and Ivan de la Carrera, a student at Catholic University, in Santiago, Chile. Dr. Lyons spoke on Inter-American relations, and told the gathering of the efforts being made by this government to establish and maintain brotherly relations between the United States and South American countries. Dr. Lyons interviewed the three students on topics of interest, including their impressions of American customs, their school work and other subjects.

Present for the occasion were a number of visitors, including presidents of all civic clubs in the city and their wives. Wives and lady friends of the Kiwanians were present for the annual occasion. About 115 were present.

William Medlin, president of the Kiwanis Club, presided over the banquet, and Rev. Lawrence Stell, pastor of the Presbyterian church, welcomed the guests. The response for the ladies was given by Mrs. H. S. Loy. Rev. Mr. Stell also introduced Dr. Lyons to the audience.

High School Boys Can Join Navy

The U. S. Navy has announced another opportunity for North Carolina youths to serve their country and at the same time prepare themselves for future civilian work.

High school and college students between the ages of 17 and 19, inclusive, can now enlist in a new Naval Reserve group and will not be called to active duty until the completion of their current school year if they so desire.

The students will enroll in the Navy's V-1 class, a general service branch of the reserve, and when they become enrolled, they will not be subject to the draft.

Naval authorities have declared the new plan offers opportunities that have never been equalled for students in American schools and colleges.

Besides being patriotically enrolled in the world's hardest fighting navy, each young man who is accepted will be furnished food and lodging and initial uniforms while on active duty. Pay will start with the base amount for seamen and will be increased as the man advances in ratings.

Enrollment in the class also offers youths the opportunity of obtaining free $1,500-worth of training in any of 45 trades or vocations. A physical fitness program will develop healthier men.

The periods of enrollment are two, three or four years, but those enlisting will be required to serve only throughout the duration of the war. Not unless the nation's military situation necessitates the calling of the men, will any one enrolling now be required to report for duty before the school year is ended.

Further information about the class can be obtained from Navy Recruiting Stations in North Carolina at Raleigh, Charlotte, Salisbury, Greensboro, Asheville and New Bern; in South Carolina at Columbia and Charleston; in Georgia at Macon, Atlanta, and Savannah; and in Florida at Jacksonville, Tampa and Miami.
