"Appointment For Love" Shows AT IMPERIAL For One Day Only On Sunday

A return to the Imperial theatre of "Appointment For Love", starring Charles Boyer and Margaret Sullivan, for a one day showing on Sunday, gives local people an opportunity of seeing one of the best pictures of the year.

"Appointment For Love" portrays two people who marry and then can't get along because of a misunderstanding, but who later realize their mistakes and are brought together again. It is one of the few romantic pictures of the year that is mentioned highly for Academy Award for 1941.

For those movie goers who have not seen the picture, a grand evening's entertainment awaits you at the Imperial.

Monday and Tuesday brings to the screen the picture "They Died With Their Boots On", reviewed on the opposite page. Regular admission prices will prevail at the picture's showing at the Imperial.

Betty Joyce, a new star, and Bruce Edwards, also a new one among the male stars, appear together for the first time in "Marry the Boss's Daughter", which plays at the Imperial theatre on Wednesday for one day only.

The story tells of a young man (Edwards) who gets his big chance when he returns a lost dog to Miss Joyce. She gets him a job in her father's factory but the young man takes his work too seriously and his boss's daughter not seriously enough. Eventually, he learns better, marries the daughter and becomes a vice-president.

All young men should see this one, because it tells of a grand way for any young man to get along.

Bruce Cabot, the he-man of "Sundown," returns to the Western ranges to star in a new hit Western picture entitled, "Wild Bill Hickock Rides", and Constance Bennett and Warren William, co-star with him to make this one of the better class Westerns. It plays Thursday and Friday at the Imperial.

The story is about the efforts of a group of land pirates to grab the rich valley of Powder River in Cheyenne. Chief villain and brains behind the gang is Warren William. He sets up Miss Bennett as an operator of a gambling house and tries to use her to snare Hickock, played by Cabot. She falls in love with him instead, and at the last moment warns Cabot that the gang is going to blow up the dam that will flood the valley.

This Western is suitable for the whole family and should be put down on the "must" list.

Saturday finds Tim Holt starring in "Dude Cowboy" at the Imperial. The added attraction is "Dick Tracy vs. Crime, Inc."

HOSTESS AT TEA

Enfield—Mrs. E. E. Stallings and Miss Eula Stallings received Thursday afternoon at their home on Whitfield Avenue, complimenting Mrs. Harrison Stallings, who before her marriage February 2nd was Miss Wilhelmina Branch, of Enfield.

Miss Virginia Branch greeted the guests at the door, and Mrs. G. L. Crump introduced them to the receiving line composed of the hostesses, Mrs. E. E. Stallings, Miss Eula Stallings, Mrs. Harrison Stallings, and Mrs. R. E. L. Wheelless, of Warsaw. The bride wore a long waisted model of white jersey, with full skirt of black net, and corsage of cerise orchids.

Miss Grace Person invited guests into the dining room, where Mrs. Frank Branch and Mrs. B. M. Nicholson presided at the tea table. Attractive sandwiches cut as wedding bells and slippers; cakes, salted nuts and mints were served by Misses Julia Jordan, Kiki Andleton, Marjorie Dickens, and Eunice Cuthrell.

Miss Katherine Parker invited the guests into the hall where Mrs. M. E. Herman presided over the Bride's book.

The reception hall and living room were attractively decorated in jonquils, golden bells, ferns and yellow tapers in silver candelabra. In the dining room the table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with a low silver bowl of white carnations, gladioli, snapdragons and fern. White tapers in silver candle sticks tied with tulle and sprays of valley lilies cast a soft glow.

During the tea hour one hundred and fifty guests called.

LOCAL MAN CAPTURED BY JAPS

The Navy Department announced through its district headquarters at Charleston Friday that Lenzie J. Lee of Roanoke Rapids, a civilian worker on Wake Island prior to the Japanese capture of the Pacific outpost, was "deemed likely to be a Japanese prisoner of war."

Lee's name was announced as among some 27 persons from the Sixth Naval District who were supposedly captured on the islands of Wake and Guam when the Japanese attacked and captured these Pacific strongholds.

The Navy department said that Lee was employed on Wake in the construction of defense works and that because of the interruption of communications and the eliminating of contact entirely when the various outposts were overwhelmed the Navy Department cannot have absolute information on the exact status of all individuals who were serving in the armed forces and of civilians who were engaged on public works undertakings on the two islands.

However, the communique said, from information that had been available up to the time or near the time of the capture of some of the personnel serving at the different places, it is presumed that those not otherwise accounted for are prisoners of the Japanese.

Lee is the son of Mrs. Annie L. Lee, who lives about a mile from Roanoke Rapids on the Littleton highway. He worked for Rosemary Mills for a number of years prior to enlisting in the Army, in which he served one complete term and a portion of another.

He went to Wake Island as a civilian employee on the defense projects about two years ago and had written home several times before the outbreak of hostilities with Japan.

The information received by the Herald Friday was the first word received of the Roanoke Rapids man since the Island was captured, and relatives of the youth were overjoyed to hear that he was not listed among the dead on the island.

Miss Edith Wood of Washington, D. C., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wood, here during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wynn and son of New Bern spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Allie Thompson.

Mrs. J. W. Smith, Miss Nancy Spelling and Sam Smith were visitors in Farmville Sunday.

BRIDGE PARTY

Enfield—Mrs. A. C. Nichols, Jr., was hostess at a bridge club party Wednesday evening. She used red and white flowers to decorate her home, and all appointments were in the George Washington motif.

The two high scores were made by Miss Constance Price and Mrs. Myra Mann. They received defense stamps for prizes. Mrs. H. L. Kendall won a box of cherry candy in the bingo hand. Mrs. Nichols presented a remembrance to Mrs. Harrison Stallings, a recent bride.

After prizes were awarded, the group surprised Miss Blanche Moss by singing "Happy Birthday" to her and presenting her a collection of gifts.

The hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Sallie B. Dickens, served a dessert course in the patriotic colors.

Guests present were Mrs. R. L. Wood, Mrs. Sidney Randolph, Miss Mary Collins, Miss Constance Price, Miss Christine Huddle, Miss Josie Loughead, Mrs. Harrison Stallings, Miss Mary Gladys Womble, Miss Hazel McKeel, Miss Nellie Bryan Newton, Miss Annie Mae Sherrod, Mrs. Leonard Matthews, Mrs. Hugh Sherrod, Mrs. Theodore Harrison, Mrs. Myra Mann, Mrs. John Newton, Mrs. H. ### Wendell Young Advances Rank In U. S. Army

Wendell Young, son of Mrs. Sam Young of this city, has been promoted to Staff Sergeant in the Army, it was learned here today. He is stationed at Denver, Colorado. In a letter to friends here, Sgt. Young says the fishing is fine near his location and invited his friend to come out and "hook a few".

BRIDE HONORED

Enfield—Mrs. M. E. Herman, Mrs. G. L. Crump and Miss Virginia Branch entertained at a linen shower and luncheon in Mrs. Herman's home on "Sherrod Heights" Thursday, complimenting Mrs. Harrison Stallings, a recent bride, who was formerly Miss Wilhelmina Branch, of Enfield. Jonquils, yellow bells and yellow candles decorated for the occasion.

The bride's table, where eight guests were seated, had a center arrangement of white snapdragons and carnations, in a silver bowl. On small tables elsewhere for the luncheon were yellow candles, on which a spray of snowdrops were tied with white tulle.

A two course luncheon was served, an ice course following the salad plate.

The hostesses presented gifts to the honoree, Mrs. Harrison Stallings, to Mrs. John Parker, a recent bride, and to Miss Ernestine Bellamy and Miss Sarah Pope, whose engagements have recently been announced.

Guests present were Mrs. Harrison Stallings, Miss Ernestine Bellamy, Mrs. Ernest L. Bellamy, Miss Sarah Pope, Mrs. R. Hunter Pope, Mrs. John Parker, Miss Catherine Parker, Mrs. J. B.
