all the knocks a Marine must take in fighting the Devil Dog type of warfare. This "jeep" took part in a recent Leatherneck landing maneuver.

Supposing EVERYBODY Bought Now.

You've heard people say: "I'll buy it now because there might be a shortage later?" • That's holding back part of the loyalty they owe to our country. • Everyone who fails to do all he can for the common cause, hurts himself as well. • The wise man, and his wife and family, will buy only what they need . . . and will buy it when they need it, and where they can buy it best.

SUMMER PROGRAM FOR SCOUTS BEING ARRANGED

Girl Scouts To Participate In Many Activities

Girl Scouts in troops in the city this summer will enjoy a full program of summer activities for the first time in their history, Miss Frances Newsom, recently appointed as Girl Scout Executive, announced yesterday.

Miss Newsom said that troop camping this year would be difficult due to transportation shortages, but that the Girl Scout Council has worked out arrangements whereby a full program of activities for the Scouts could be provided this summer.

The summer activities will be under the direction of Miss Newsom and she will be assisted by regular Scout leaders in the city and by additional consultants from the community.

The following schedule for the week of June 15th to 19th will be of interest to Girl Scouts in the city:

Monday, June 15: Troops 2, 3 and 4—9 a.m. Brownies, 4 to 6 p.m.

Tuesday, June 16. Troops 7 and 8—9:30 a.m. Activities: Senior Service practise. Troops 2, 3 and 4, 7 to 9:30 p.m. Activities: general recreation.

Wednesday, June 17: Brownies, 9:30 a.m. General activities.

Thursday, June 18: Troop 6, 9:30 a.m. Troops 7 and 8, 7 to 10 p.m.

Friday, June 19: Bikes, bicycling, general activities planned by groups. Overnight activities at the Girl Scout Hut or elsewhere.

Time schedules are subject to change, as cook-outs may be planned following morning activities, or preceding evening activities. Watch the paper and bulletin boards in the Scout Hut for special interest scheduled on the program. Troops will be divided according to interests and activities, and Scouts chosen as leaders of each group where several troops join in activities.

Scouts interested in advancing in rank will find the summer program helpful and interesting. Intermediate Scouts not yet 15 years of age, but having attained the first class rank may begin work on their badges which will enable them to receive the curved bar and will also afford practise for the senior Service rank.
