Miss Ina Mae Hux became the bride of Tech. Sgt. Clarence M. Overboy Sunday evening, August 2, in a quiet ring ceremony in the home of Charles R. Young, Justice of the Peace, of Battle Creek, Michigan.

The bride wore a dress of white with matching accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses with pink ribbon.

The only attendants were Harry Burchett, Ralph Garren, Kenneth Livestone, and Edward Norwicki, all friends of Sgt. Overboy who are stationed at Fort Custer, Michigan.

Mrs. Overby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hux of this city. Mr. Overby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Overby of Manson, Washington.

Tech. Sgt. Overby was a former soldier stationed with Co. "D", 30th Engineers of Roanoke Rapids until June 13th, when he was transferred to Fort Custer, Michigan to continue his work as a surveyor.

The tin in 60 tooth paste tubes is just about the amount of tin needed to solder electrical connections on one army training plane.

The shrouds of a single army parachute contain as much nylon as three dozen pair of stockings, or more than a year's supply for the average woman.

NORTH CAROLINA FACTS!

BILTMORE HOUSE (NEAR ASHEVILLE), ON A 12,000-ACRE ESTATE, IS RECOGNIZED AS ONE OF AMERICA'S FINEST COUNTRY ESTABLISHMENTS. IT HAS BEEN VISITED BY 259,232 TOURISTS SINCE OPENED TO PUBLIC IN MARCH, 1930

OUR state will receive in 1942 more than $2,250,000 in taxes from the beer industry. And one of the chief aims of this Committee's "Clean Up or Close Up" Campaign is the preservation of this steady, substantial and much needed flow of governmental revenue.

YOU provide telling aid when you frown on the few beer retailers who disregard the law, and restrict your patronage to dealers whose places of business reflect a sense of good citizenship and honorable operation.

Home Economics Teachers Start To Work In City

On August 20 Miss Evelyn Tillman, head of the Home Economics Department, and Miss Ellen Douglas Boone returned to their work. These vocational home economics teachers are employed on a ten-month basis, and their program of work began August 20 when they attended the conference at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, North Carolina.

This conference was under the supervision of Miss Catherine T. Dennis, State Supervisor of Home Economics, and her staff. The purpose of the meeting was to outline the work for the school year which included various phases of what the vocational teacher can do in this time of war. Such problems as the following were discussed: (1) What are the home living problems facing your families today? What can you do to help them solve them? (2) How may you effectively cooperate with other agencies in the community? (3) What will you include in your year's program? How can you effectively plan for and develop it? (4) What can you do to help promote better nutrition in your community? (5) What can you do to promote better nutrition in your school?

The vocational teacher has a varied program including: pupil instruction; direction and supervision of student home projects; conducting of adult classes, if community is interested in having such a program; and participating in other community activities which have as their purpose the betterment of home living. When school is not in session, the teachers devote their time to visiting, community activities, improvement of the home economics department, supervision of home projects, and teaching adult classes.

Miss Margaret Toler, non-vocational home economics teacher of the Roanoke Rapids High School, will return at the beginning of the school year to carry on her part of the home economics program.
