BOY SCOUT NEWS

What with a District Committee Meeting, a Board of Review, a Troop Charter Presentation, a new Troop Organization meeting, a Staff Conference, and other activities, Scout-minded men in Roanoke Rapids have undergone an exceptionally busy week—with more of them coming up.

The coming of Autumn always brings a surge of activity in Scouting, while the Summer months are usually fairly slow. The beauty of it all was that, in Roanoke Rapids, there was no Summer Slump; and while other locales were marking time and relaxing our own outfits were moving right up to the front in advancement, in attendance, in membership.

The Roanoke Rapids Rotary Club was host to their own Troop 86 over in Gaston last Tuesday evening. Along with Scoutmasters Vann and Hudson the Scouts enjoyed a crackerjack supper followed by a charter presentation ceremony in the school auditorium. We think this Troop is really going places. Vann and Hudson are in there pitching 100% of the time, and under such leadership these youngsters are going to carve an enviable niche for themselves in Halifax District Scouting.

Keep an eye on South Rosemary, too. Things are beginning to hum over in those parts . . . and there's a young fellow named Wheeler, agricultural teacher at Wm. R. Davie School and 3rd baseman of the Romancos who has all the earmarks of a top-notch Scoutmaster.

Some few days ago this writer had the privilege of meeting and talking with four young British "King" Scouts. "King" Scouts correspond to Eagle rank in America. These boys were from four of the most badly bombed sections of England. They had been through the "blitz," and while we may earnestly pry that our own lads may never have to go through the same ordeal, they nevertheless gave an inspiring picture of what Scouts can, and will, do when the time for action comes. These boys, just normal youngsters like those you see playing in our own school yards, had aged far beyond their years. They had seen things that weren't nice to see: High explosives and incendiaries bursting all about them; Their own friends and loved ones gone; Their homes and play-places destroyed . . . but, as Scouts, they had "carried on" . . . as messengers, as first aiders, as fire watchers, and as assistant wardens. Scouts, our motto "BE PREPARED" means more than ever these days. What about that Emergency Service Training?

It's good to see Billy Atkinson, of 144, back in town again. Billy loves and lives Scouting. So does Bill Hawkins, another one of those Troop 146 "Beavers."

Scoutmaster Rudolph Waters of 142 is planning a swell Fall and Winter program in advance. Rudolph started the ball rolling the other day with a Treasure Hunt that stretched over some ten miles of territory, and did those 142'ers eat it up!

We've got 43 Cubs in Halifax District today, with more coming up. More power to Cubmasters Schaaf and Travis.

How many of your Scouts and Scouters know your District Commissioner for Halifax and Northampton counties? He's Ben Richardson, of Weldon, a splendid Scouter with years of practical Scouting experience. Ben is going to try and visit every Troop in his district this Fall.

Roanoke Rapids Scouting extends cordial greetings to the Reverend J. M. Walker, new Presbyterian minister. We sincerely hope that Reverend Walker will make himself thoroughly at home in our ranks and will find an opportunity to take an active part in our Scouting program.

Just a thought in closing: "Character is what you are in the dark."
