LETTERS

My dear Chairman:

Last Friday, Donald M. Nelson, Chairman, War Production Board, Congratulated the newspaper publishers of America through their National Publishers' Salvage Committee on the magnificent job they had done. Unquestionably, you have had many contacts with your local publishers and have already personally thanked them for the extraordinary help they have given.

From our contacts with the National Publishers' Salvage Committee, we feel sure that although the newspaper campaign has ended in most communities their interest has been aroused and they can and will be of great continuing assistance to this great national effort in which you are taking such an important part.

We will be much interested in hearing from you relative to your continuing progress and problems. Sincerely yours, PAUL C. CABOT, Deputy Director Conservation Division, WPB. October 29, 1942.

Dear Mr. Wilson:

Although I live in another city I get to read your paper every week through and by a friend of ours. I lived in Roanoke Rapids for fifteen years but moved away in 1935.

Mr. Wilson, I, like a lot of other people, think it is a grand idea to hear from the boys in the service, through your paper. There are a lot of the boys that I read of in the paper that I went to school with. If it is not asking too much, will you one week real soon have the names of all the boys that have gone into the service in your paper?

Yours truly,
Beulah Cook Ozment
