

LIONS NET $4,000.00 PROFIT

FESTIVAL IS BIG SUCCESS FINANCIALLY

Almost Double Amount Of Profit Shown In Other Years

At their last meeting, held Wednesday evening of last week, members of the Roanoke Rapids Lions Club heard their president, Dot Bennett, who also served as chairman of the festival committee this year, report that over $4,000.00 in net profits was realized from this year's staging of their annual "Mid-Summer Festival." This amount represented a gain of almost double that of any previous festival, and members of the local club were highly elated over the profits of the venture.

In making his report, President Bennett expressed his appreciation to all club members, as well as members of other civic clubs of the city, and the community as a whole in combining their efforts to make this year's festival the biggest yet.

At last Wednesday night's meeting, visitors of the club were presented by Joe Talley. The list included:

Mrs. Helen Bashay of New York City and Betty Winbourn of A-hoski. Mrs. Bashay is a member of the N. C. State Commission for the blind, having filled that position since June 28. She has been blind since the age of 13 and now uses a Seeing Eye Dog. She made a most interesting talk regarding her work around Roanoke Rapids.

Lion Kennemur presented the program for the night: which included talks by Lt. Frank P. Cassidy and Lt. Gil Crouch of the local Armory. Their talks held the attention of every Lion present.

Dan Cagle and Thornton Wilson were welcomed into the Club.

Have a "Coke" = Cead Mile Failte

(A HUNDRED THOUSAND WELCOMES)

...or how Americans make friends in Ireland

Cead Mile Failte—a hundred thousand welcomes—says the kindly Irishman when he meets a stranger. The American soldier says it another way. Have a "Coke", says he, and in three words he has said Greetings, pal. It's a phrase that works as well in Belfast as in Boston. Around the globe Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the high-sign between friendly-minded people.
