

READY TO TACKLE CAMPAIGN

MR. AND MRS. CAMERON WEEKS

Tarboro, March 14—Cameron S. Weeks, candidate for the United States House of Representatives, will manage his own campaign with the aid of his wife, Glennes Dodge Weeks and that means the job will be well done.

Mrs. Weeks achieved widespread recognition for the part she played in 1940-1941, both in assisting her husband, who is blind, in his successful campaign for the 1941 State Legislature, and in his work in the Legislature. She was his committee clerk and attended all committee meetings with him, including all executive sessions of the committee. Her duties in assisting her husband carried her to all meetings of the committees on: agriculture, appropriations, public welfare, institution for the blind, game, counties, cities and towns, and judiciary. She is an active member of the Sir Walter Cabinet and she was elected an honorary member of the N. C. House of Representatives, the only case of its kind in the history of the state. For her service to her husband and state, she was recognized by Kate Smith, radio star, who devoted her entire 15-minute broadcast over CBS in 1941 to a tribute to the couple, pointing out Mrs. Weeks as one of the outstanding young women of the south.

Since the 1941 Legislature, Mrs. Weeks was again at her husband's side, aiding him as solicitor in 1941 and 1942, in the practice of law. Although Mrs. Weeks acts as her husband's eyes, she states that the decisions rests with him. Her average day is crammed with activity, as she tangles with practice of law, teaches Sunday School, is secretary of the Presbyterian woman's auxiliary, drives the car for her husband, and keeps house. When interviewed, she stated that she expects to devote all possible time to her husband's campaign and she is highly optimistic over his prospects for nomination, having already traveled the second Congressional district extensively.

The capable Mrs. Weeks attended Salem Academy, Wirgate Junior college, and is a graduate of the University of North Carolina. She is a daughter of Mrs. George F. Dodge and the late Dr. Dodge of Southern Pines. She has a sister, Dr. Eva F. Dodge who served as a medical missionary in China for several years, and as special supervisor in Puerto Rico of pre-natal clinics for the U. S. government.
