

How about spending the next 5 minutes in hell?

FOR the next few minutes, imagine that you're an American soldier.

You might, for instance, imagine that you're a 20-year-old kid from Indiana, who got hit at Salerno, months ago.

Since then, you've been lying in a base hospital somewhere, with a leg that never stops hurting and a hole in your belly that makes the younger nurses sick when they try to dress it.

Or you might imagine that you're a war prisoner in an enemy hospital. For nearly two years now, you've been ill and weak and hopeless. And ahead of you lies a gray stretch of more sickness and weakness—while you try to keep alive the hope that somehow, sometime, you'll see your home again.

It doesn't make much difference where you let your mind take you—just as long as you put yourself in one of the spots where, at this minute, men are going through as real a hell as this earth ever sees. But do it, won't you?

If your imagination is any good at all, you'll dig down deep this year for your Community War Fund. For your money, through the U.S.O. Camp Shows and the War Prisoners' Aid, will help the boy in the hospital forget, for a little while, his hurt. It will give the man in the hospital new hope to carry him through.

When you give, you give just once, for all. So give all you can—
