

ENFIELD NEWS

(Crowded out last week)

Enfield Rotary Club had an interesting meeting Tuesday night with the President William Robert Davis in charge. Basketball was largely the theme of the occasion, club members being invited guests. Watson Sherrod in charge of the program complimented the local players at the same time praising Principal, Hickman of the Enfield school, who has given valuable time and thought to the Enfield Basketball team. Fred Hoyle, a well known athlete was present and he fittingly introduced coach, Murray Greason head basketball coach at Wake Forest, as well as football line coach there. Coach Greason in an interesting way had much to say in favor of basketball as a fine sport, which it seems attracts more spectators than any other sport in America. His address was not only entertaining but highly instructive. After his address Coach Greason showed a film of the Wake Forest-South Carolina football game. This created decided interest.

A delightful meal was served by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Taylor.

ENFIELD POLICE EQUIPPED WITH TEAR GAS BILLIES

Enfield Police have just been furnished with combination billie and tear gas guns. The weapons can be used as billies, have safety triggers which can release tear gas by the explosion of a cartridge. This is quite an addition to the equipment of the town police.

The Levon Theatre in Enfield led the theatres of Halifax County in collections for the Infantile Paralysis fund in 1946, according to a report of C. S. Alexander of Scotland Neck, County chairman of the drive.

With $155.05 collected, the Levon turned over to National Headquarters over one third of the $450.04 collected from theatres of the County. One half of this amount will be returned to Halifax County for work against Infantile Paralysis here; and one-half the entire net collections will be used for this purpose in the County. Total amount collected in the County is $3392.67.

Circle No. 1 of the Methodist Church Met Monday afternoon at the parsonage with Mrs. Newton. The chairman, Mrs. L. J. Barnhill presided and the meeting was opened by singing a hymn. Mrs. S. A. Dunn conducted the devotional—making a lovely talk on Christian living and closing her remarks with prayer. The regular business routine was then taken up and splendid reports were given from the committees. Another shut-in was taken to be remembered in March. Two new members, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Greene were added to the roll. The "supper-less supper" netted a nice sum as each member gave a dollar. When the absent members and the members not donating at the meeting contribute, the circle will have a good start towards buying the two adopted orphan's spring clothing. During the social hour Mrs. Newton and her joint hostesses, Mrs. H. A. Bridgers and Mrs. Nellie Matheny, served a delicious sweet course to the 28 members present. Everyone then went over to the parsonage, which had just been painted on the inside and other much needed improvements made, making it most attractive.

Anderson's Garage Is Broken Into

(Crowded out last week)

On Monday morning Anderson's Garage of Enfield was found to be robbed. Mr. Anderson on entering his business place discovered the garage had been forcibly entered the night before, and that approximately $20.00 in silver was missing from his cash register, as well as an automobile from the garage, property of Walter Anderson.

Mr. Anderson found the car within a few hours on the Avenue leading from Highway 301 to R. Hunter Pope's residence. The burglar had been unable to drive it any further as the front wheels locked. The car had been in the shop for repair, and the fact that this had not been done probably saved permanent loss of it.

Vets Are Hired By Chain Store

More than 14,500 veterans of World War II were hired by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company in the first six months following V-J Day, John A. Hartford, company president, announced today.

Of these veterans, Mr. Hartford said, 2,548 are "old employees" returning to their jobs while 6,405 veterans, not formerly employed by the food chain, were added to company payrolls. The emphatic statement that "we want each one of our 26,964 veterans back" marked the announcement made by Mr. Hartford who pointed out that the company also extends job preference to war veterans when hiring new personnel.

"We want our employees back because they are valued personnel who can best help us in our constant policy of improving our services to the nation's food buyers," Mr. Hartford said. "In some cases where we made personal calls on former employees who did not apply, we found men who really wanted their old jobs back but for one reason or another, often combat disability, felt timid about applying."

Warmly commanding Congress for enacting legislation to protect returning veterans as a group, Mr. Hartford said his company welcomes back the veteran as a "fellow worker returning from a leave of absence." The company tries to recognize any special skills he developed in the service and endeavors to assign disabled veterans to jobs commensurate with their physical limitations, he emphasized.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

GEORGE: "Yes, I certainly would like to hear why you call that an old fashioned idea, Judge."

OLD JUDGE: "Glad to tell you, George. Until recently, a person known as an alcoholic was generally treated as a social outcast. Little if anything was done to understand him or help him. But, during the past few years, medical research and study has developed that alcoholics are really sick people... that there is usually a deep-rooted physical, social or emotional reason behind their behavior. That's why today so much is being done to help them by finding out and correcting the condition that leads them to excess."

GEORGE: "How many folks are there like that, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Well, according to scientific research, 95% of the people who drink, drink sensibly. 5% do so unwisely, at times. Included in that 5% is the small percentage of the sick people I'm talking about."

GEORGE: "That certainly gives me a clearer picture. It's the most sensible approach I've ever heard on the subject."
