

St. Clair And Anna Frank Coming Here

Jimmy St. Clair and his fine orchestra of eight people featuring lovely Anna Frank—have fans that like smooth and sophisticated music and will find that Jimmy St. Clair's Orchestra which is scheduled for a dance at the Armory, Friday, August 16 from 9 til 1, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to Veterans of Roanoke Rapids Post No. 3207, is fully prepared to render the best in danceable rhythms.

Jimmy has the best possible background as a dispenser of this type of music, his band having played some of the top-class hotel, ballrooms, clubs and theaters in the East and Mid-east. Hotel patrons are known for preferring sweet music that makes for easy dancing and pleasant listening. Having played such famous hotels as the Starlight Room, Monticello Hotel, Norfolk, Va., the Tampa Terrace in Tampa, Fla., and the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond, Va., is proof enough that the Jimmy St. Clair Orchestra knows its business in the musical world when it comes to smooth music.

Leader Jimmy St. Clair is one of the few maestros in the music world today who has made a place for himself as a distinguished instrumentalist, we are speaking of Jimmy's fine fingering of the piano. Critics have said that St. Clair definitely has the Carmen Caverliero, Franky Carle, and Stan Kenton style all combined in a definite St. Clair style.

The St. Clair band opens the fashionable Summit Club outside of Baltimore, Maryland on Saturday, August 17, where once again his great music has been the reason for being contracted to play one of the countries top notch nightclubs.

Lane - Hawkins Vows Are Spoken

Miss Betty Winston Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hawkins of Roanoke Rapids, became the bride of Lewis Calvin Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lane of Roanoke Rapids on Wednesday, July 31, at 3 p. m. in the Rosemary Methodist Church. Rev. W. R. Stevens, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. Wedding music was rendered by Billie Waters pianist, and Miss Neal Allsbrook, soloist, singing "One Alone" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, full length sleeves with calla-lily points, and a fitted bodice joining a full skirt. Her finger tip veil of lace and illusion fell from a coronet of illusion gathered and fastened by tiny baby pearls. She wore a strand of pearls as her only ornament. The bride carried a white satin covered prayer book used by the family since 1830 which was topped with white rosebuds and white satin streamers interspaced with tube roses.

Miss Martha Ann Starke was her cousin's maid of honor. She wore a gown of heaven blue net and taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, full skirt, square neckline and cap sleeves and wore a coronet of net fashioned after the bride's. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, blue asters, and babies breath tied with pastel ribbons.

The bridesmaids were Miss Ann Moseley and Miss Martha Lee Johnson. They wore gowns of jonquil yellow net and taffeta fashioned after that of the maid of honor and coronets of net fashioned after that of the bride. They carried bouquets of yellow roses, purple asters, and babies breath tied with pastel ribbons.

Little Miss Linda Lane, niece of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. She wore a dress of white satin with a round neckline, puffed sleeves, and a fitted bodice joining a full skirt.

The bridegroom's brother, Robert Lane, was best man. Ushers were J. W. Duke, cousin of the groom, and Willis E. Hawkins, Jr., brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of figured yellow crepe, a wide brimmed hat of black straw and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in sheer black trimmed with pink lace, a hat of black straw and a corsage of pink roses.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents for relatives and close friends of the couple. Lovely arrangements of white summer flowers and ivy were used throughout the house. Assisting the hosts were Mrs. George Hayes, Mrs. John Matthews, Mrs. W. B. Allsbrook, Mrs. R. I. Starke, Mrs. Ed Luter and Miss Isoline Holliday.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Lane left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. For traveling Mrs. Lane wore a two piece brown and white dress of butcher linen and crepe with brown and white accessories and a corsage of white roses taken from the prayer book.

The bride attended the Carolina College of Beauty Culture and since her graduation has been employed at the Peacock Beauty Salon. The bridegroom served in the Navy for 18 months and has recently received his discharge.

After a short wedding trip the couple will make their home in Roanoke Rapids.

Following the rehearsal on Tuesday evening Mrs. R. I. Starke, aunt of the bride, entertained the bridal party and relatives of the couple. The home was lovely with arrangements of white flowers and ivy. Mrs. Teddy Cox presided over the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. Elmer Starke.

MINISTER AND WIFE GRATEFUL TO RETONGA

Mrs. Bates Could Eat Only Soft Food and Says She Almost Lost Hope of Feeling But No One More Appreciative Of Relief Retonga Gave, She States.

Grateful for relief from almost unbearable suffering from nervous indigestion, along with kindred distresses, the Rev. B. C. Bates, highly respected minister of Austell, Ga., Route 1, and his beloved wife, have joined the thousands gratefully praising Retonga.

"I don't believe anyone could have suffered worse distress than I did from gas bloating and gassy heartburn," said Mrs. Bates. "Solid foods seemed heavy as lead in my stomach, and I just forced down a little soft food like soups and broths. I lost weight and felt highstrung. Strong laxatives became a habit and my muscles ached until I could hardly stand it. I hardly knew what a good night's sleep was and most mornings I felt so worn out that my housework just had to go undone. My husband also suffered badly from acid indigestion. I almost lost hope of ever feeling much better.

"No one could be more thank-

ful for the relief Retonga brought them. I now relish my food, feel much stronger and am regaining lost weight. I sleep restfully and hardly ever notice any aches or pains, and strong laxatives are not needed now. Both of us heartily recommend Retonga. It is grand."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Rosemary Drug Co. (Adv.)
