BEAUTIES FROM RIVAL STATES MEET in Los Angeles to start anew the old battle of California versus Florida lovelies. The eight on left hail from Florida, and those on right from California.

Greensboro, August 28th. "Methods of Getting Milk Into The Deits" was demonstrated by Juan manem Bolling and Ruth Hill of Inborden 4-H team.

Interesting talks were heard at the meeting. Negro District Agent Otis Buffalo of A. and T. College, Greensboro, emphasized the Parent's Part in 4-H Club Work. Four-H Club Specialist W. C. Cooper also of Greensboro outlined the full activities of 4-H Club Work and praised the cooperative spirit of the two counties. Robert Jones of Warren County discussed "What 4-H Club Work Has Done to His Home."

The parents' competitive activities consisted of baby contest for men, husband calling and cracker eating contests for women. Landis Harris of Warren County won the first place in retracing himself back 50 years in drinking milk from a nibbled bottle; Plummer Hardy of Halifax County was second and William Mason of Warren County, third. In the cracker eating contest, Mrs. Richardson of Warren County won first place, Miss Mildred Hedgepeth of Halifax County ranked second and Miss Effie Whitaker of Halifax, third. Mrs. Sallie Hedgepeth of Halifax County was judged the best husband calling contestant. Mrs. Davis of Warren County, second and Mrs. Ada Williams of Halifax County, third.

Fishing was a favorite sport for many and C. R. Green, Agent of Veteran Bureau of Warrenton, reported the largest catch. Swimming and boat riding were enjoyed by the 4-H Club members.

In the general assembly, the clubs expressed themselves by singing the New 4-H Spirit. It isn't Trouble and the 4-H Club Round. The annual 4-H Club Family Rally Day is sponsored by Negro Extension Agents D. J. Knight and Miss R. V. Whitworth of Halifax County; C. S. Wynn and Mrs. Anna Branche of Warren County with 4-H leaders and parents cooperating.

NEGRO FARM AGENT'S NEWS

By D. J. KNIGHT
Negro County Agent

Over 400 persons observed the Halifax and Warren Counties 10th annual 4-H Club Family Rally at Faulcon's Pond near Littleton July 31st. Team demonstration, contests, talks, recreational activities, and group singing were featured on the program.

The 4-H demonstration on the "Production of Cheap Milk" by the Mary's Chapel team, Clarence Harris and Walter Clark was presented publicly for the seventh time. The crowd applauded at the methods the team used in stressing, the seven points on the subject. The boys will make their decisive appearance in a State 4-H Club Contest at the Short Course at A. and T. College.
