Job Opening

(Continued from page 1—Sect. A) plus of workers now unemployed. The total labor demand in the area is estimated to be about 32 percent.

Job openings on file do not cover all the demand in the area, and it is estimated that the total labor needs will equal or exceed the number of workers available for employment, but for various reasons the workers available do not match the job openings. The majority of the females available for employment do not meet the current requirements of industry such as age, skill, experience, and physical ability. Approximately 31 per cent of the unemployed workers are not available for, or seeking work. Many of the veterans have entered school and many of them are seeking "on the job training" opportunities, which are scarce. Other problems are workers' qualifications not matching jobs, physical disabilities, housing and transportation.

There were 284 persons who filed claims for unemployment compensation during the month of August, but this is expected to show a sharp decrease in September since the veterans entering school will discontinue their claims. There is a marked increase in the number of persons inquiring for information of jobs available in other sections, and many persons may except work in other areas if suitable work cannot be found locally.
