Says the chief: "Now when we need a lot of officers, we can get 'em here in short order."

Health Officer Reports Malaria Control Program

The Halifax County Health Department, in cooperation with the State Board of Health, has been conducting a malaria control program during the spring and summer months. This program consisted mainly of spraying of the houses where malaria has been reported with DDT, and to date, rather extensive work has been carried on in the following communities: Halifax, Roanoke Rapids colored school community, Lincoln Heights, Norfleet Station area, Spring Hill, Tillery, Enfield, a special area in Roanoke Rapids where Rocky Mountain spotted fever was reported last year, Weldon and Darlington.

Approximately 1500 homes have been sprayed in these areas and the follow-up studies of these homes have revealed that it has been very effective in controlling not only mosquitoes but flies and other insects as well. Many citizens reported mosquito-free homes as a result of the spraying.

A very intensive spraying program, sponsored by the city and its industries, is being conducted in Roanoke Rapids. In this connection it is interesting to note historically that one of the pioneer malaria control programs was inaugurated in Roanoke Rapids on the Roanoke river.
This spraying is done without any cost to the citizens of this county where the physicians have reported the incidence of malaria. The State Board of Health has furnished all of the DDT and part of the equipment while the county has sponsored the personnel for this program. This work will be continued through the month of July and any citizens who wish this service may obtain it by sending in a doctor's certificate or statement that someone in the home has had malaria.

Halifax State Prison Camp Sit Down Strike Terminated Two Hours After It Starts

A no-work, sit-down strike at the state prison camp near Halifax early Monday morning, said by authorities to have resulted from a fancied dissatisfaction over the breakfast menu ended suddenly and without violence after two and a half hours when soft-voiced but firm camp supervisor J. T. Thomason told eleven hardboiled inmates that they could "come out the easy way or the hard way—make up your minds."

Deciding that Thomason wasn't bluffing, the 11, led by Joe Hornsby, just out of six months' hard solitary confinement in Raleigh, dropped their home-made weapons, meekly walked out and gave up.

On hand and waiting in the event that the prisoners had decided to take "the hard way" were 11 police from Roanoke Rapids and Weldon, 20 eight deputies from the office of Halifax County Sheriff Harry House and 30 tear gas equipment in the hands of the officers.

Declaring they didn't like fried bologna for breakfast, the camp personnel sat down in the west section of the camp about 7 o'clock Monday morning. Thomason said he told them to come out and all but the 11 complied. Then, at about 9:30 in response to his ultimatum they, too, came out. Thomason emphasized that no loud talking nor idle threats were necessary—there were just the two alternatives and took the easier path.

Immediately after giving up, the prisoners were placed in solitary confinement until "their attitudes change." When released from solitary, the men will revert to the lowest grade, having lost all gained time.

Two Roanoke Rapids men, Ernest Brigran and Jack Barkley, were included in the group, as named by Thomason. The others were Frank Fugh, Harry Lewis, former trouble-maker in Rockingham County; Harry Dixon and Roland Bishop. Hornsby, the leader, had a record of many escapes from prisons and camps all over the state.

The menu to which the men objected, as released by the camp supervisor, was: fried bologna, brown gravy, grits and rice, hot biscuits, molasses and coffee.

The probable menu for a while for the 11, although not announced, bread and water.

The Herald announces an increase of 10 cents per inch in advertising rates, effective July 1, 1947.

This increase is the result of an unbearable rise in operating costs. The Herald has mounted to the point where advertising income during many past weeks has totaled less than payroll. In addition, many other items of expense have increased greatly. For example, this newspaper has paid as high as $134 a ton for newsprint, which is almost 50 percent more than was paid six months ago.

However, as a result of the acquisition of more newsprint, circulation has stepped up with a high point almost one-third greater than three months ago.

In announcing this rate increase, the management is doing just what any other management would do under like circumstances—force the newspaper to operate with costs greater than income.

The Herald will continue to increase the quality of the news, to expand news coverage and to extend circulation as facilities permit.

The Herald is embarked on a program of building a better newspaper, of encouraging and fostering those factors which will build a better trading area for merchants and the public, and a bigger and finer Roanoke Rapids.

Typhoid Case Reported by Dr. R. F. Young

First Case of Season Discovered in Mullens Crossroad Community

The Halifax County Health Department reports that the first case of typhoid fever this season has been found in the Mullens Crossroad community near Scotland Neck. During the past five years there have been 36 cases of typhoid fever reported in Halifax County, of which 23 cases have been located in the general community of Scotland Neck and Hobgood. Typhoid fever has become a vanishing disease in many sections of the country, and as a matter of fact, there are many localities which have not had a single case of typhoid fever for as long as 10 years.

"The fact that we still have typhoid fever in this county," said Dr. Robert F. Young, county health officer, "serves to remind us that there is still considerable work to be done in the field of sanitation and immunization against typhoid fever."

All of the cases reported during this period, of course, have come from rural sections where sanitation has been poor and where families have neglected to protect themselves against this disease by taking the typhoid fever vaccination. The Halifax County Health Department during the spring immunized approximately 10,000 citizens against typhoid fever and a special series of immunization clinics will be conducted in the Scotland Neck-Hobgood section in an effort to control the disease in that section. However, every citizen, continued Dr. Young, should be immunized against typhoid fever without any further delay. The typhoid fever immunization gives absolute protection against this disease, and it is certainly a cheap form of insurance against so debilitating a condition as typhoid fever.

Typhoid fever is contracted either from a patient who has it or from a carrier of this disease through the media of water, milk, milk products and raw vegetables. Flies are the most important insect for carrying the disease from the patients or carriers to the population as a whole.

Elizabeth City Legion Team Hands Locals 17 to 7 Defeat

Elizabeth City's American Legion Juniors dealt the Roanoke Rapids Juniors their most severe thrashing of the season Monday night by trouncing the locals 17-7, there on Honsucker Field.

The coastal city club knocked starter William Wheeler from the hill in the opening frame with a five run barrage. Coach Cranford Hoyle used three pitchers in vain attempt to stop the winner's assault but nothing seemed to help and the Elizabeth City men scored practically at will.

Six runs in the fifth clinched the contest for Elizabeth City. Four hits, along with a walk and four errors provided the winning margin.

The defeat deafened the locals chances of obtaining the league lead, moving them two full games behind the top-dwelling Ahoskie team.

Ray Ward, a shortstop who is currently leading the batting in Area one with .367 average, paced the winners at bat with two hits in four trips.

Troy Hasty, Roanoke Rapids leading pitcher with a 4-1 record, raised his mark to a .439 figure with two hits in four appearances.

Mrs. A. O. George spent Tuesday in Richmond with her father. Miss Hilda Hines spent Tuesday in Richmond.

Eight Day Tour of U.S. And Canada To Go To Grand Prize Winner

All Expense Tour, Including Visit to Ottawa And Other Canadian Points; Also New York City, Will Be Given to Lucky Participant

An eight-day motor coach cruise through New England to Niagara Falls, across Lake Ontario and into Canada, a visit to the capital of Canada—Ottawa—and to many other points of interest in Canada and New England awaits the winner of the grand prize to be given away by the Roanoke Rapids Lions Club during the city's Semi-Centennial Celebration. It was announced today by the steering committee in charge of the celebration. The winner will be allowed to select a companion of his or her choice to be a co-guest on the trip.

After careful deliberation, the Motor Coach Cruise, "Ontario Lake Landscapes," conducted by Thomas Cook and Sons of Washington, D. C., and New York, was selected by the committee as the grand prize.

The trip will begin and end in Roanoke Rapids and will include eight full days of sightseeing and visiting places of interest. All expenses, except for transportation, will be paid by the Lions Club.

The cruise will be accompanied by a tour escort in a modern cruiser-type motor coach—not a bus. Each day's program will be a leisurely one; early arrivals at overnight hotels will give plenty of time for the tourist to explore the quaint towns and interesting resorts which will be stops on the traveler's itinerary.

All meals will be taken at first class hotels, resorts or interesting wayside inns. The route of the tour has been carefully selected and expertly planned for satisfaction, beautiful scenery, historic shrines, variety in every day's travel—and adventure. Frequent stops will be made to give opportunity for viewing interesting points, taking pictures and enjoying the sunshine.

Each ticket to each event during the city's Semi-Centennial Celebration is good for one chance to win this wonderful vacation with all expenses paid, committee members point out and the drawing for the grand prize will take place during the square dance at the Roanoke Rapids Armory at midnight, July 4th.

Additional plans for the forthcoming celebration were made public by the committee and from all indications, the local civic club is really going "all out" to make the celebration a success in fact, as well as in fancy.

A spectacular parade, made up of many floats and featuring good music, will open festivities starting

Auto-Train Collision Claims Two Lives Last Saturday; Double Funeral Monday

"Ain't Nobody Here But Us Chickens" Irate Housewife Voices Alarm as South Rosemary Poultry Vanishes Under Suspicious Circumstances

A warning to poultry raisers in the South Rosemary section of the city was voiced this week by Mrs. Addie F. Medlin of 206 West Littleton Road, who told a Herald staff member that a chicken thief has been operating in that vicinity for the past several weeks.

It all started three weeks ago today with the removal of 15 chickens from Mrs. Medlin's chicken pen and continued Monday when three hens (a New Hampshire Red marked by a red band around one leg and two White Giants), disappeared under somewhat suspicious circumstances.

At the time of the first theft, Mrs. Medlin notified the various law enforcement agencies and was advised to take extra precautions in fastening means of entrance into the chicken yard. She put extra bars on the several gates but she reckoned without the ingenuity and persistence of the culprit.

For this time, the thief, evidently sold on the delectable edibility of the meat from chickens raised by the Rosemary housewife, risked the ire of seven hives of bees and a flock of geese in coming through via an entirely different path in order to remove the hens.

Although admiring his ingenuity Mrs. Medlin does not feel obligated to continue furnishing the unknown sneak thief with provender for his festive board and requested the Herald to inform "the persons or person unknown" that from now on her chicken yard is off limits.

"We are going to put an exhibit in the lobby which will not only illustrate to local citizens what the mills manufacture, but one that will show them what happens to the products after they leave here," he added.

Plans include setting up a wide Dobby Box Loom from one of the mills to be in operation under the supervision of an employee of the mills.

The firm began operations last November when the bottling plant was opened and departments are being opened as fast as they are ready. Last Saturday, a beautiful new ice cream and milk bar was opened.

Albright, a veteran of 17 years' experience in the dairy industry, explained that the company was interested in developing grade A milk production in Roanoke Rapids and surrounding communities. To this end, the local firm will continue to add new and modern equipment at it becomes available. Plant expansion will take place from time to time as needed to take care of the increased equipment, Albright said.

The production department is under the capable direction of A. C. Lutz of High Point, who has had about 30 years' experience in handling the various phases of the dairy business.

Double funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Taylor, victims of a train-automobile collision late Saturday afternoon, were held from the W. C. Williams Funeral Home at 2:30 Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Gordon L. Price. Burial was in Roanoke Rapids Cemetery.

A tragic auto-train accident late Saturday afternoon near Roanoke Rapids claimed the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Taylor, local residents, at the same crossing, ironically, where Mrs. Taylor's mother was killed in a similar accident several years ago.

Roanoke Rapids policemen, J. W. High and C. C. Deese and Coroner Rufus Britton, who investigated the accident, fixed the time of the collision at 4:59 and quoted John Sands, engineer of the northbound Seaboard Air Line's number 14, as saying, "the train was going at a moderate rate of speed and I didn't see the car until we were right on it."

After the investigation, the train was permitted to proceed when Sands and Conductor L. D. Cawthorne told Coroner Britton that he could be reached through the Richmond offices of the railroad. Britton left the date of an inquest into the deaths open.

The Taylors, who were driving a 1934 Chevrolet coupe, were crossing the tracks at 10th Street Extension (known as the South Rosemary crossing) west of town and Mrs. Taylor was killed instantly. Taylor died en route to the hospital.

Mrs. Taylor is survived by five brothers, Joe Barnes of Jackson, Cleveland Barnes of Gaston, and Arthur, Pressley and Cliff Barnes of Roanoke Rapids, and her father, Jack Barnes.

Taylor's survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Taylor, of Vaughan; two brothers, Jean of Garysburg, and John of Vaughan, and two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Barnes of Roanoke Rapids, and Mrs. John Vaughan of Emory, Va.

County Paralysis Group Re-Elects Officers Friday

All officers of the Halifax County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis were re-elected at the annual meeting held at Halifax last Friday morning. Roanoke Rapids Chairman: V. C. Matthews of Halifax, Vice-Chairman: Father Peter M. Dences of Roanoke Rapids, Treasurer: and Eric W. Rogers of Scotland Neck, Secretary.

The report of the treasurer showed a cash balance of $4,928.00 on hand. Eight patients affected with infantile paralysis were cared for during the year at a cost of $1,125. 65.

It was decided to send Dr. Robert F. Young, county health officer, to a nation-wide clinic to be held at Washington, D. C. the last week in July, at which time training will be given public health officers in means of discovering and dealing with infantile paralysis cases. It was felt that the slight cost of this training was more than justified in Dr. Young's work in the county.

An invitation to join with Rex Hospital and ten other counties in eastern North Carolina in setting up a treatment unit at Rex to serve infantile paralysis patients in the ten counties was accepted. Halifax County's share of the necessary funds to set up the unit will be $1,800 and it was agreed to contribute this without any commitment for later years but subject to determination as to the recurring expense. Heretofore it has been necessary to treat infantile paralysis patients from Halifax section of the state which made transportation to and from a difficulty. With the unit at Raleigh it will be possible to send patients (both white and colored) to Raleigh and to keep in touch with them more efficiently. It is also expected that charges will be reduced by reason of the local contribution to the set-up.

Paul Johnson of Littleton, L. C. Barow of Weldon was nominated subject to approval of the state unit to be county fund chairman for 1948.

The executive committee of the chapter is now composed of the following: George A. Hux of Halifax, Graham Lynch of Roanoke Rapids, V. C. Matthews of Halifax, Father Peter M. Dences of Roanoke Rapids, Mrs. Walter Clement, Jr., of Enfield, U. Bixby Pierce of Weldon, J. B. Hall of Scotland Neck, Dr. Robert F. Young of Roanoke Rapids, Mrs. Eva C. Williams of Essex, Chilton Moss of Ringwood, J. Edwin Martin of Tillery, Mrs. John D. House of Thelma, John W. McGowan of Enfield, C. S. Alexander of Scotland Neck, and W. P. White, Jr., of Hobgood.
