Christmas Decoration Sug gestions: Have you already be gun to think of Christmas deco rations that would make your home more beautiful for the Yulctide Season? Here are a few very simple, but lovely sugges-tions made by the Home Man-agement and House Furnishings Specialists of Extension Service: 1. Gum drop trees are always a powelty at Christmas time.

Christmas Suggestions - Food Conservation, Marketing, Crafts: In this year of high prices and food shortage a most attractive and acceptable Christmas gift would be a choice jar of peaches, soup mixture, or if you feel very generous, one of those nice jars of tenderloin, attractively wrap-ped with colored cellophane and tied with gala holiday ribbon. A piece of holly, mistletoe, or a branch of short leaf pine with tiny burs on it, tied in the bow, will add to the attractiveness of the package.

Table and mantel piece deco rations of holly, mistletoe, ced-ar or pine will give a festive tone to the home. A long full branch of either of these, tied with a red bow at the top, tacked on the outside of your door will greet your guests with the Christmas spirit.

Beautiful wreaths for the windows, for our loved ones at the cemetary, or for sale or your local market can be made from evergreens that are available. Shape a wire coat hanger into a circle and attach the bran-Christmas tree of table decoration. These can be strung in a make a lovely Christmas centervariety of ways in arrangement of popcorn and berries.

4. Don't throw away old Christmas certes boxes covered with a dark strong thread, or wire, wall paper and filled with pine that will not show. Evergreens that have pliable stems, as ivy, saily come from one's own imagination and ingenuity, and with large red bow on one these suggestions it is hoped you side will lend color and holiday can be shaped without the coat hanger. A large red bow on one side will lend color and holiday spirit to the wreath. Ribbon bows are lovely for the wreaths to be used indoors. Red oil cloth cut in strips will be better to
