

Society

EDITOR: KAT WALLACE

MIND YOUR MANNERS

When private papers lie on desks,
Don't ever take a peek;
Unless you want the world to think
Your middle name is Sneak.

Don't snub the newest student,
She may be next week's friend;
A cheery word or helpful hint
Will earn you thanks, no end!

It's time to turn a deaf ear
When near a private "talkie,"
And Grade A etiquette, of course,
To take a little "walkie."

TAU KAPPA HAS ANOTHER FIRST AID MEETING

The Tau Kappa Phi held its second first aid meeting at the home of Peggy Miller. Mr. Kelly spoke on first aid and then he demonstrated some important points. After the program the hostesses, Peggy Miller and Fannie Holt Yarborough, served Russian tea and cakes.

Also the Tau Kappa Phi held their most recent meeting on March 10, at the home of Emily Bower with "Lib" Peacock as co-hostess. The program consisted of "personality charts." After the program the hostesses served coca-colas and sandwiches to the members present.

HI-Y HOLDS MONTHLY MEETING AT BOBBY ARNOLD'S

The Hi-Y had one of its best meetings of the year at the home of Bob Arnold on March 4. Miss Critcher, advisor of Tau Kappa Phi, was the speaker. She spoke on the relationships of high school boys and girls. The talk was enjoyed by all, although many disagreed on some points. After the program an enjoyable buffet supper was served.

TAU KAPPA PHI MEETS

The Tau Kappa Phi met at the school on February 10. Mr. Lea had charge of the program which was on the subject of first aid. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Barbara Bingham and Jean Griffith, to those present.

About School

Spring has sprung—or did you know? Have you had an attack of spring fever yet? Me too!

AS

Well, a lot has been going on about school the last two weeks. Maybe I can tell you a little about everything.

AS

Guess you heard all about the Beta Club in Raleigh. Tip: Don't play poker with "Dirty" 'cause he'll win all your money and clothes.) Yep! Dirty really plays cards and he really played in Raleigh — Now Fanny, you and Barbara don't have to turn into night owls so soon. Getting up at three o'clock in the morning and going to walk, sounds like you couldn't sleep. (?) And what's this I hear about Anne White and a rug catching on fire. Burn bad?

AS

Did you like "Macbeth"? It was lucky the Seniors had studied it, for we could follow it so much more easily. Since seeing "Macbeth" we surely have a better idea of a Shakespearean play, and I call the Avon players "tops."

AS

Jimmy, Jr., hurry up and get well! We miss you!

AS

Tonite the Senior Dramatics Class goes to Belmont to enter the State Dramatic Contest. Luck to ya!!

AS

The Tau Kappa Phis certainly are making history as air raid wardens—Hi-Y, what are you doing this year? We don't hear much about you!

AS

The LEXHIPEP room is getting all dressed up in a new coat of paint. Looks pretty good! Oh well! Look who painted it! Spurgeon, Vestal, Dewberry and Parks (?) I still can't understand it though.

"Any Paint Today, Lady?"

One of the unusual projects undertaken in Lexington High School is that of painting the interior. The room just renovated is the LEXHIPEP room. Above are shown Spurgeon Stokes and Grady Benfield on the job. However, Grady Benfield has been replaced by Bobby Pickett, and the Lexhipep room now is fresh and new looking, ready for visitors—thanks to the school painters.

LEXINGTON HIGH ON THE AIR

By Anne McLendon

On February 19 Lexington High presented a victory program dedicated to the armed forces of our country. The purpose of that program was to "re-mind ourselves that we still live in America," the land of the free."

With Ann White as the student announcer, the school went on the air singing "God Bless America." The students stood while Bill Blaylock led the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Parks Easter read an essay entitled "Why I am Glad to Be An American." Betty Rose Crofts read a poem entitled "High Flight," and Jean Craver read "In Flanders Fields." "The Bill of Rights" was read by Ginny Madsen, after which the student body sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The broadcast closed with "God Bless America."

The fifth successive Hit Parade was presented on broadcast February 26. The program began with Mr. Gerow, Mr. Sawyer and Mrs. Ruth Walser playing "Blues in the Night." Jim Witherspoon, the student announcer announced the number 8 hit, "Shepherd's Serenade." The songs then came in the following order: No. 10 "Someone's Rocking My Dreamboat" by Mrs. Walser; No. 7, "Louisiana Lullaby" by Mr. Gerow and Mr. Sawyer. They then played the No. 1 hits of the past which were: "I'll Never Smile Again," "Frenesi," "Amapola," and "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire." The No. 6 hit was "I Got It Bad and That Ain't Good," sung by Jean Williamson and Betty Sue Morris, vocalists. The No. 2 hit was "Blues in the Night"; the No. 4 hit was "This Is No Laughing Matter," by Jean Williamson; an extra tune was "The Love of Mine"; the No. 9 hit was "The Shrine of Saint Cecelia"; No. 5 was "Everything I Love," sung by Betty Sue Morris. Then came the last two hits which were: No. 3, "White Cliffs Dover" and the top ranking tune, the Lexington student body, "Elmer's Tune." The program ended with

EXCHANGES

A Math Major
Given: I love you.
To Prove: That you love me.
Proof (1) I love you.
(2) Therefore, I am a lover.
(3) All the world loves a lover.
(4) You are all the world to me.
(5) Therefore, you love me.
—SELECTED

Buy a defense stamp and lick the other side.

—THE ORACLE
Bradenton, Florida

Boy: This liniment makes my hand smart.
Girl: Why not rub some on your head?

—PINE WHISPERS
Winston-Salem

Early to bed,
Early to rise,
And the girls go out,
With other guys.
—THE SELBY STRURGEAR

Dad: Your girl's spoiled isn't she?
Did all these musicians come from the formation of the Girls' Physical

For her work, she was appointed secretary. The LEXHIPEP staff was being chosen and I was being discussed for assistant sports manager. Please don't misunderstand me; I wasn't a good person for the position for the past which were: "I'll Never Smile Again," "Frenesi," "Amapola," and "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire." size. I'd be willing to bet now that I'm the tallest in the state but the most efficient. I'll probably stick in a plug for my asset. Following in the footsteps of the favorite sport is tennis and although I'm an excellent player.